305 SOCIAL GROUPS

- 2 Friedman, John T.
Imagining the post-apartheid state: an ethnographic account of Namibia / John T. Friedman.-- New York: Berghahn Books, 2011. 312p.
ISBN : 9780857450906.
305.800968 FRI11 103696

In north-west Namibia, local people's political imagination offers a powerful insight into the post-apartheid state. Based on extensive anthropological fieldwork, this book focuses on the former South African apartheid regime and the present democratic government; it compares the perceptions and practices of state and customary forms of judicial administration, reflects upon the historical trajectory of a chieftaincy dispute in relation to the rooting of state power, and examines everyday forms of belonging in the independent Namibian State. By elucidating the State through a focus on the social, historical, and cultural processes that help constitute it, this study helps chart new territory for anthropology, and it contributes an ethnographic perspective to a wider set of interdisciplinary debates on the State and state processes.

323 CIVIL AND POLITICAL RIGHTS

3 Fortman, Bas de Gaay

Political economy of human rights: rights, realities and realization / Bas de Gaay Fortman.-- London: Routledge, 2011. 255p.

ISBN : 9780415581202.

323 FOR11 103274

The book combines rigorous juridical study with a focus on political-economic analysis of rights in context. Hence, it aims at an interdisciplinary treatment of human rights as opposed to current texts that have a tendency to be monodisciplinary. The book should be of interest to students of human rights, political economy, law and conflict studies, as well as those who work or research in these areas.

** Human rights; International relations; United Nations Reforms

327.2 DIPLOMACY

957 ASIATIC RUSSIA - GENERAL HISTORY

10 Asiatic Russia: imperial power in regional and international contexts / edited by Uyama Tomohiko.-- London: Routledge, 2012. 296p.

ISBN : 9780415615372.

Although the Russian Empire has traditionally been viewed as a European borderland, most of its territory was actually situated in Asia. Imperial power was huge but often suffered from a lack of enough information and resources to rule its culturally diverse subjects, and asymmetric relations between state and society combined with flexible strategies of local actors sometimes produced unexpected results. In Asiatic Russia, an international team of scholars explores the interactions between power and people in Central Asia, Siberia, the Volga-Urals, and the Caucasus from the 18th to the early 20th centuries, drawing on a wealth of Russian archival materials and Turkic, Persian, and Tibetan sources. The variety of topics discussed in the book includes the Russian idea of a 'civilizing mission,' the system of governor-general ships<sup>654</sup>, imperial geography and demography, roles of Muslim and Buddhist networks in imperial rule and foreign policy, social change in the Russian Protectorate of Bukhara, Muslim reformist and national movements.
