303.625 TERRORISM

1 Reconciliation after terrorism: strategy, possibility or absurdity? / edited by Judith Renner and Alexander Spencer.-- London: Routledge, 2012. 230p.
     ISBN : 9780415588584.
     303.625 REN12   103958
     The notion of engagement and reconciliation with terrorist groups is generally seen as problematic, if not impossible. This is somewhat surprising, given that the idea of societal reconciliation has become a common response to state terror– although not usually in situations of conflict with sub-state terrorist actors.
     Similar to state terror, sub-state terrorism is a sign of a deep societal rift which reconciliation measures may help to overcome. The text investigates the reconciliatory process further, raising the central questions: (a) what constitutes 'reconciliation' as a process and an outcome; and (b) how can reconciliation be facilitated in a situation of social conflict.

306 CULTURE AND INSTITUTIONS

2   Human rights and migration: trafficking for forced labour / edited by Christien van den Anker and Ilse van Liempt.-- London: Palgrave Macmillan, 2012. 252p.
    ISBN : 978023027913.
    306.362 ANK12   103891
    Human Rights and Migration outlines the interplay between human rights and migration regimes in the wider context of trafficking for forced labour. It combines rigorous analysis with country studies from across Europe. The book is divided into three parts which cover migration, labour and human rights approaches. The contributors argue that complex and restrictive migration regimes exacerbate the channelling of migrants into risk groups for trafficking and that some types of exploitation in the field of trafficking are clearly linked to migration itself. They investigate the role of the state in creating the circumstances of trafficking and other violations of migrant rights.

322 RELATIONS OF THE STATE TO ORGANIZED GROUPS

3   Wilson, Erin K.
    After secularism: rethinking religion in global politics / Erin K. Wilson.-- London: Palgrave Macmillan, 2012.
    222p.
    ISBN : 9780230290372.
    322.1 WIL12   103913
    Having destabilized dominant assumptions about the nature of religion, there is now a need to develop new ways of thinking about this ever–present phenomenon in global politics. This book outlines a new approach to understanding religion and its relationship with politics in the West and globally for International Relations.

323 CIVIL AND POLITICAL RIGHTS

4   Contested citizenship in East Asia: developmental politics, national unity, and globalization / edited by Chang Kyung-Sup and Bryan S. Turner.-- London: Routledge, 2012.
    266p.
    ISBN : 9780415594462.
    323.6095 SUP12   103886
    This collection of thirteen articles on conceptions of citizenship in East Asian countries explores the nexus of economic development and political involvement to describe the unique, non–western characteristics of national identity and participation in Asian cultures.
    Topics discussed include colonialism, revolutions and development in national identity, national and social citizenship theory, property rights and citizenship in China's new urban neighbourhoods, gender and the political economy of social care policy reforms in Japan, and developmental citizenship in the Korean context.

325 INTERNATIONAL MIGRATION AND COLONIZATION

5 Globalisation, migration, and the future of Europe:
   insiders and outsiders / edited by Leila Simona Talani.-- London: Routledge, 2012. 260p.
   ISBN : 9780415669047.
   325.4 TAL12   103890
   During the twentieth century the context in which migrants negotiate their integration within legal, social, cultural, economic and political spaces changed significantly. Drawing upon varied perspectives from the US, UK, France, Germany, Switzerland, Russia and Italy among others, this work develops a comprehensive understanding of the impact migratory networks are having on European societies. It investigates the strategies of integration or discrimination which are developed in Europe by state institutions, legal codes, political movements and even immigrant communities themselves, when confronted with the growing influence of migratory networks. The result is a highly topical exploration of the political and legal dimensions of migration in the EU, that develops new approaches to the issue of social integration and the exclusion of migrants and migrant communities

   China's strategic competition with the United States /
   Russell Ong.-- London: Routledge, 2012. 170p.
   ISBN : 9780415561075.
   327.73051 ONG12   103922
   This book examines the transformation and the multifaceted nature of the relationship between US and China in the post-Cold War era. It examines their nature and implications of their strategic competition in military, political and economic terms, as well as in relation to Taiwan, Japan, the Korean peninsula and Central Asia; the author argues that both powers compete in virtually every sphere in the international system; their relationship is overall competitive rather than cooperative, even in areas that are amenable to cooperation such as trade and nuclear non-proliferation.

    355.03 MILITARY SITUATION AND POLICY

9   National security under Obama administration / edited by Bahram M. Rajaee and Mark J. Miller.-- New York: Palgrave Macmillan, 2012. 247p.
    ISBN : 9780230116825.
    355.033573 RAJ12   103948
    An initial assessment of President Obama's foreign and national security policy, this volume brings together a unique collection of American and non-American scholars to examine various institutional, regional, and major policy dimensions of contemporary US engagement with the world. All contributors have been associated with a series of US foreign and national security policy institutes convened at the University of Delaware, made possible by grants received from the US Department of State and through the generosity of the University of Delaware's Institute for Global Studies. The contributions reflect the constructive dialogue nurtured throughout the institutes

    363.7 ENVIRONMENTAL PROBLEMS AND SERVICES

10 Climate change and the crisis of capitalism: a chance to reclaim self, society and nature / edited by Mark Pelling, David Manuel-Navarrete and Michael..-- London:
    Routledge, 2012. 207p.
    ISBN : 9780415676946.
    363.73874 PEL12   103923
    This volume brings together leading scholars to address these questions from several disciplinary perspectives: environmental sociology, human geography, international development, systems thinking, political sciences, philosophy, economics and policy/management science. The book is divided into four sections that examine contemporary development discourses and practices. It bridges geographical and disciplinary divides and includes chapters on innovative governance that confront unsustainable economic and environmental relations in both developing and developed contexts. It emphasises the ways in which dominant development paths have necessarily forced a separation of individuals from nature, but also from society and even from 'self'. These three levels of alienation each form a thread that runs through the book.
