1) Raghavan, Vyjayanti

Northeast Asia and South Asia: The Impact of Xi Jinping and Donald Trump /by Vyjayanti Raghavan: KW Publishers.- New Delhi, 2024. 167p.

Abstract: This book was written during the Covid years. It focuses on the role of China and the US in Northeast Asia and South Asia and examines their traditional policies and the shape they had taken under Donald Trump and Xi Jinping. The aggressive approaches of these two leaders resulted in a lot of strain on the fabric of the delicate and balanced relationships in the regions. The book also asks if there is any role for India as a middle power in the emerging dynamics in these regions in order to develop a multipolar alternative. It concludes that the countries which are caught up in the frictions between the US and China will try to find alternative structures that address their specific concerns

2) Kashyap, Kasturba

Cyber Intelligence /by Kasturba Kashyap: Mohit Publications.-New Delhi, 2023. 352p.

Abstract: This book involves the collection, analysis, and exploitation of information from cyberspace to understand, anticipate, and mitigate threats. It focuses on identifying cyber risks, tracking malicious activities, and protecting digital infrastructure from cyber attacks, espionage, and data breaches. Through techniques like threat intelligence gathering, malware analysis, and vulnerability assessments, cyber intelligence helps organizations and governments defend against hackers, cybercriminals, and nation-state actors. It also plays a crucial role in developing proactive security strategies, enabling rapid response to incidents, and ensuring the integrity, confidentiality, and availability of critical information systems in an increasingly interconnected world.

3) Jalalzai, Musa Khan

The Intelligence War in Britain: Public Perceptions of the UK Intelligence Agencies, Foreign Espionage, the Tory Party and its Response to the Salisbury Attacks/by Musa Khan Jalalzai: Vij Book India.- India, 2022. 224p.

Abstract: The Author examines groundbreaking cryptography, espionage, and counterintelligence efforts. Bletchley Park's codebreakers, led by figures like Alan Turing, cracked the German Enigma cipher, providing critical intelligence (Ultra) on Nazi operations. Organizations like MI5 and MI6, along with the Special Operations Executive (SOE), orchestrated sabotage, deception campaigns (Operation Bodyguard), and double-agent networks to mislead the enemy. The success of Britain's intelligence, especially in signals intelligence (SIGINT), shaped post-war espionage and strengthened its Cold War alliance with the United States.

9) Bina, Cyrus

Globalization and the Decline of American Power: The Political Economy of the American Fall
/by Cyrus Bina: Routledge Taylor & Francis Group.-London, 2023. 242p

Abstract: This book explores America's decline as a global power, arguing that the implosion of Pax Americana was initiated by the process of globalization, preceding the collapse of the Soviet Union by nearly a decade. The era of Pax Americana, and with it American hegemony, is conclusively passed, and will not return in current global conditions. Cyrus Bina's Globalization and the Decline of American Power is the culmination of a lifetime of sustained radical scholarship, reflecting as only Bina can do -- often controversially -- breathtaking reach, incisive analytical polemics, and a rare intellectual ambition.

12) Cheterian, Vicken

Open Wounds: Armenians, Turks, and a Century of Genocide February/ by Vicken Cheterian:Hurst & Company.- London, 2023. 393p.

Abstract: A probing reflection on how silence and complicity in the face of mass violence affects a society for decades. Cheterian's straightforward historical account does not shy away from a more disturbing aspect of the genocide's legacy where the quest for justice denied over generations spills over into the violence of reprisals, revenge, and terrorism Cheterian's book offers one of the most complete tellings of the twisted, emotional story of the decimation of 1.5 million Armenians in Ottoman Turkey in 1915, during the fury of World War I and the story of the political struggle over the massacre in the century since it occurred.

13) Islam, Nazmul

Power of Bonding and Non-Western Soft Power Strategy in Iran: Comparing China and India's Engagement/ by Nazmul Islam: Palgrave.-London. 2023, 356p.

Abstract: This book comparatively assesses the China and India’s soft power strategy in Iran. By employing Joseph S. Nye’s “Soft Power” theory and forming the new concept of “Power of Bonding”, this book formulated China and India’s soft power narratives and applied it through the empirical analysis in Iran. Based on this theory, this book seeks explanations for the question of “How China and India respectively, strategically and comparatively use the soft power strategy in Iran?”. To reach the find-out, this book compares the understanding, resources, strategies, influences and uses of China and India’s soft power in Iran under three thematic areas, including “power of bonding through cultural attractions, and attributions”; “political and diplomatic engagement” and “economic partnerships”.

15) Takhar, Opinderjit Kaur

Global Sikhs: Histories, Practices and Identities/ by Opinderjit Kaur Takhar & Doris R. Jakobsh (Ed.): Routledge Taylor & Francis Group.- London, 2023p. 375p.

Abstract: This book brings a broad, holistic approach to the study of the phenomena of the global Sikh community referred to collectively as the Panth. With contributions by an interdisciplinary range of experts, the volume provides insight into current debates and discussions around Sikh identity in the twenty-first century. It examines the terms Sikh, Sikhism and ‘Sikhi’ and considers how those ‘outside of the margins’ fit into larger definitions of the wider Panth. Both the secular and religious dimensions of being a Sikh are explored and lived experience is a central theme throughout. The chapters engage with issues of authority and diversity as well as representation as Sikhs become increasingly settled and active within their diasporas locales. The book includes a variety of case studies and makes a valuable contribution to the growing field of Sikh studies.

16) Wang, Tao

Making Sense of China's Economy/by Tao Wang:Routledge.-London, 2023. 295p.

Abstract: For years, China's transformation from one of the world's poorest nations was lauded as a triumph that lifted hundreds of millions of people out of poverty. There were always questions about data reliability and growth sustainability, but the general views on China have recently taken a decidedly sour turn. Concerns abound about state interference in the economy, an ageing population, and high debt level. Making Sense of China's Economy untangles China's complex economic structure, evolving issues and curious contradictions, and explains some key features of this most Puzzling of global economic power houses.

17) Lagutina, Maria

The Routledge Handbook of Russian International Relations Studies /by Maria Lagutina , Natalia Tsvetkova & Alexander Sergunin (Ed.): Routledge Handbooks Taylor & Francis Group.- London, 2023. 451p.

Abstract: This handbook examines the study of international relations (IR) in Russia, giving a comprehensive analysis of historical, theoretic-conceptual, geographical, and institutional aspects. It identifies the place and role of Russia in global IR and discusses the factors that facilitate or impede the development of Russian IR studies. The contributors represent diverse Russian regions and IR schools and offer an overview of different intellectual traditions and key IR paradigms in the post-Soviet era. Filling the vacuum in international understanding of the Russian perspective on pivotal international issues, they demonstrate the continuity and change in Russia’s international policy course over the past three decades and explain how different foreign policy schools and concepts have affected Russian foreign policy making and the decision-making process.

The Elephant Awakes: Strategic Reflections – 2023/by AK Chaturvedi, Harsha Kakar , Dushyant Singh, PVSM & AVSM (Ed.): A Strive Publication.-India, 2023. 324p.

Abstract: World is going through a geopolitical churn at a feverish pace. The UN, is loosing its efficacy. Issues like cross border terrorism, religious radicalism, climate change, cyber, bio and space are adding new dimensions to warfare. Because of the advancements in technology, the devastations during conflicts are becoming excessively ruinous. Internal security problems in India are adding new challenges. Students of strategy need to study the problems of national security to analyse the correlations between the issues to develop a response strategy. For this strategy to become comprehensive, infrastructure build up and increased indigenous production are prerequisites. This book, "The Elephant Awakes: A Strategic Reflection" is an outcome of the Endeavour of Team STRIVE to share their analysis of the contemporary strategic issues with the strategic community and stimulate many a mind to look at issues with a new perspective.

21) Kingsbury, Damien

The Rise and Decline of Modern Democracy /by Damien Kingsbury: Routledge Taylor & Francis.-London, 2023. 245p.

Abstract: Democracy is in global decline. Fewer countries are democratic and fewer people, globally, live in substantive democracies. Autocracy is now the dominant political form and the future looks, at best, challenging for the retention of such democracies that remain. As they did a century ago, nationalism and populism have again reared their ugly heads, and more people are claiming that democracy no longer addresses their most compelling needs or interests. This book examines what democracy is and the circumstances that allowed – even encouraged – it to arise. Democracy has been a product of a need to find a political model that mediates between competing interests, building on conducive conditions. However, there have since been fundamental changes to those conditions, imbalances within democratic countries and between countries, that have diminished the strength of the democratic proposition.

Violence, Discourse, and Politics in China's Uyghur Region: The Terroristization of Xinjiang/ by Pablo A. Rodríguez-Merino: Routledge Taylor & Francis.- London, 2023. 246.

Abstract: This book investigates how Uyghur-related violent conflict and Uyghur ethnic minority identity, religion, and the Xinjiang region, more broadly, became constituted as a terrorism' problem for the Chinese state. Building on securitization theory, Critical Terrorism Studies (CTS), and the scholarly definitional debate on terrorism, it develops the concept of terroristization as a critical analytical framework for the study of historical processes of threat construction. This book will be of interest to scholars and students of the politics of contemporary China, security and ethnic minority issues, International Relations and Security, as well as those adopting discursive approaches to the study of security, notably those within the critical security and terrorism studies fields.

23) Relitz, Sebastian

Conflict Resolution in De Facto States: The Practice of Engagement without Recognition /by Sebastian Relitz: Routledge Taylor & Francis.- London, 2023. 245p.

Abstract: This book explores the challenges of conflict resolution in protracted conflicts and conceptualises and analyses the practice of engagement without recognition in de facto states. Increasingly, engagement without recognition is seen as a promising approach to conflict resolution in de facto states, but little is known about its implementation and results. The analysis is based on the current EU engagement in Abkhazia and draws from other cases in the Caucasus, Eastern Europe, and beyond and finds that international engagement with de facto states is more comprehensive and multifaceted than previously known. However, it also faces some distinct challenges and produces modest results. Finally, the book provides practical recommendations on how to better utilize the peace building potential of engagement without recognition.
