Introduction and Synopsis

The foreign policy of India seeks to promote an environment of peace and stability in our region and in the world to enable India’s accelerated socio-economic development and safeguard our national security. To attain these objectives, India has made vigorous efforts to develop friendly and cooperative relations with all its neighbours and to strengthen engagement with the major powers of the world. India’s economic diplomacy has attached due importance to energy security that is vital for an assured high rate of growth for our economy.

While pursuing the country’s supreme national interests, India’s foreign policy continues to be characterised by autonomy of decision-making, commitment to Panchsheel or the five principles of peaceful coexistence, and equity in the conduct of international relations.

With the objective of a peaceful, stable and prosperous neighbourhood, India continues to attach the highest priority to close and good neighbourly political, economic and cultural relations with its neighbours. As Chairman of SAARC, India worked with the other members to impart dynamism to SAARC processes. The Fourteenth SAARC Summit held in New Delhi in April 2007 decided to emphasise concrete regional initiatives, moving from a declaratory phase to implementation. The Summit recognised the need to have better intra-regional connectivity, particularly physical, economic and people-to-people connectivity. The SAARC Council of Ministers meeting agreed to implement several social sector and physical connectivity projects identified by SAARC Transport Ministers and SAARC Finance Ministers. They also agreed to operationalise the SAARC Development Fund immediately. Other important regional initiatives relate to the setting up of a South Asian University and a SAARC Food Bank.

India remains committed to developing close, friendly and mutually beneficial political relations with its South Asian neighbours on the basis of sovereign equality and mutual respect. It extends support to the people of Nepal in their political transition to a new democratic order. As a close and friendly neighbour, India supports the restoration of full democracy in Bangladesh. As Bhutan transitions to a democratic constitutional monarchy, India continues to work for Bhutan’s economic development and political stability. With respect to the ethnic issue in Sri Lanka, India believes that there is no military solution and that it is necessary to find a peacefully-negotiated political settlement, acceptable to all communities, within the framework of a united Sri Lanka. India continues to help Afghanistan’s reconstruction and the Afghan government and people in building a pluralistic and prosperous society. India is also committed to peace, friendship and good neighbourly relations with Pakistan and has accordingly continued with the institutional dialogue with Pakistan.

India attaches high importance to its bilateral relations with the People’s Republic of China with whom we have a strategic and cooperative partnership for peace and prosperity. This partnership has been further enhanced and given a global dimension during the successful visit of our Prime Minister to China in January 2008.

India and Iran share strong historical and cultural ties with deep civilisational and people to people links. These underpin a contemporary relationship with emphasis on trade, investment and regional cooperation. The momentum in India-Iran bilateral relations was maintained in 2007-08 through regular exchanges.

India also continued to increase its political and economic cooperation with countries in East Asia, West Asia, Central Asia, Africa and Latin America. For the effective conduct of our foreign economic relations and taking forward its Look East policy, Prime Minister led the Indian delegation to the 6th India-ASEAN Summit and the East Asia Summit. High-level exchanges of visits have also continued with countries of West Asia and Central Asia.
Such exchanges included a visit to Libya by the External Affairs Minister in May 2007. India’s commitment to the Palestinian cause was reiterated by its participation at the International Peace Conference on Palestine at Annapolis in November 2007 and at the donors’ conference on Palestine held in Paris the following month. India expressed concern over the events in Gaza and the West Bank and particularly over the use of violence against innocent civilians.

India’s increasing engagement with countries of Africa and Latin America received further impetus with the visit of the Prime Minister to Nigeria in October 2007, participation in the second IBSA Summit in Pretoria last year and by visits of the Presidents of Brazil and Mexico to India in June and September 2007 respectively.

India has made rapid improvements in its relationships with the major powers of the world while, at the same time, increasing its economic cooperation with other developed as well as developing countries. India’s relations with the USA have been transformed in the past few years. Indo-US cooperation now spans a wide spectrum including high technology, space, agriculture, education, and trade and economic linkages and there is a prospect of civil nuclear cooperation with the USA and other friendly countries. India’s relations with Russia are time tested and the visit of our Prime Minister to Moscow in November 2007 contributed to the further strengthening of India’s strategic partnership with Russia. The India-Russia-China trilateral Foreign Ministers’ Dialogue continues to be productive. India’s relations with member states of the European Union (EU) – collectively as well as individually – have been further enhanced with the Eighth India-EU Summit held in New Delhi and several Summit-level interactions with the individual States of EU including the UK, France, Germany and Italy during the last year.

At the United Nations, India has continued to press for UN reform, particularly to make the Security Council more democratic, representative, and responsive, and for a revitalization of the General Assembly. India also continued to play an active role in the international debate on various global issues, articulating the concerns of the developing world. On the subject of climate change whose impact falls disproportionately on developing countries, India has constructively engaged with the international community, advocating that critical clean technologies be made available and affordable for developing countries, even as it assured the world that while pursuing economic growth, India’s own per capita GHG emissions will not increase beyond those of developed countries.

India’s economic diplomacy continued to take measures to attract foreign investments and to provide increased access to international markets so as to promote economic growth in the country. India’s foreign policy is also directed towards bolstering energy security for the country, for instance, through supporting the efforts of our corporate entities in acquiring energy assets overseas. Convinced that regional cooperation is beneficial for the country’s economic growth, India has also continued its engagement with economic groupings such as ASEAN, East Asia Summit, IBSA, G-15, G-8, etc. We continued to press for closer economic integration with ASEAN countries. Negotiations continued on the India-ASEAN Free Trade Agreement (FTA) and the FTAs with Thailand and the BIMSTEC. The Joint Study on the feasibility of an FTA with Malaysia was completed.

Neighbours

Afghanistan: Afghanistan, under the leadership of President Karzai, has made progress towards internal stability in a democratic and pluralistic framework.

The deterioration in the internal security situation, increasing Taliban influence and attacks on our personnel, establishment and projects in Afghanistan remain a matter of concern. India highlighted, in different international and bilateral fora, the centrality of the security situation to the entire international effort in Afghanistan. India was also at the forefront of the effort to assist the Government and people of Afghanistan in building a stable, democratic, and pluralistic society. Close political consultations with the Government of Afghanistan and regular high level contact with the leadership of that country remained of importance. The momentum in the bilateral India-Afghanistan relationship created since 2001 was maintained. President Karzai led a high level delegation to 14th SAARC Summit from 3-4 April 2007 in New Delhi, where Afghanistan was admitted as full fledged member of the SAARC. The admission of Afghanistan in SAARC opened a new chapter both in the history of Afghanistan and in the South Asian regional cooperation process. The Foreign Minister of Afghanistan attended the SAARC Council of Ministers meeting in New Delhi in December 2007. From India, Minister for Water Resources, Vice President of Indian Council for Cultural Relations (ICCR) and National Security Advisor visited Afghanistan in July, September and October 2007 respectively.

India’s direct bilateral commitment to the rebuilding and reconstruction of Afghanistan is US$ 750 million. Several thousand Indians are engaged in development work in Afghanistan. Funds have been committed to projects spread over a whole range of sectors ranging from education, health, power, telecommunications & broadcasting, infrastructure to institutional capacity building, strengthening of governance and food assistance. Some important projects completed during this period, included supply of equipment and supervision of execution of power transmission project in Faryab province, digging of 26 tube wells in six provinces, five public toilet-cum-sanitation complexes in Kabul, and solar electrification of 100 villages. The implementation of the scheme of 500 ICCR Scholarships and 500 ITEC training programmes annually for Afghan nationals, announced by Prime Minister of India during his visit to Afghanistan in August 2005, is being implemented satisfactorily and along with other projects plays a significant role in demonstrating, at a popular level, the close and friendly relations between the two countries.

Bilateral Trade has shown robust growth. Total trade turnover in the first six months in 2007-08 (April-October) was Rs. 742.5 crores, compared to Rs. 550 crores during the same period in 2006-07. Total trade turnover in 2006-07 was Rs. 978.3 crores.

Bangladesh: India continued to engage with the caretaker government in Bangladesh, emphasizing the need for full restoration of democracy through peaceful, credible, free and fair elections. The Bangladesh Chief Adviser Dr. Fakhruddin Ahmed attended the 14th SAARC Summit in New Delhi during 2-4th April 2007. The Minister of External Affairs visited Dhaka on 1st December, 2007 to express India’s solidarity with the people of Bangladesh in the aftermath of the damage caused by cyclone ‘Sidr’ and announced adoption of villages for rehabilitation as well as waiver of 5,00,000 tonnes of rice for export. The Bangladesh Foreign Adviser, Dr. Iftekhar Ahmed Chowdhury visited New Delhi on 7-8 December 2007 to attend the SAARC Council of Ministers Meeting. Regular meetings at the official-level continued to be held. Issues of concern to India, including use of Bangladeshi territory by Indian Insurgent Groups (IIGs), support for terrorist activities and involvement of Bangladeshi nationals in crimes in India, have been raised with the Bangladesh Government. Bilateral trade between both countries has been growing steadily and stood at Rs. 10,200 crores (2006-2007). India signed an MoU with Bangladesh on duty-free exports of eight million pieces of readymade garments from Bangladesh to India on 16th September 2007. Two trial-runs of a passenger train between Kolkata and Dhaka were held in July 2007 in preparation for regular train service between the two cities. As a mark of India’s abiding commitment to seeing a stable, prosperous and democratic Bangladesh, India provided Bangladesh with immediate relief and with bilateral aid of around Rs. 100 crores including cash assistance as well as food aid to help it overcome the damage caused by various natural disasters during the year.

Bhutan: During this period, India and Bhutan continued to share uniquely warm and cordial relations. These relations were characterized by close consultations, maturity, complete trust and mutual understanding. In keeping with the tradition of regular visits and exchange of views at the highest levels between the two countries, the King of Bhutan visited India in February 2007. External Affairs Minister visited Bhutan in July 2007. These visits led to further consolidation of our economic and political relations.

India continued to be the largest trade and assistance partner of Bhutan. The implementation of the India assisted projects agreed under Bhutan’s 9th Five Year Plan progressed satisfactorily. The 1020 MW Tala hydroelectric project in Bhutan, built with Government of India assistance, started full commercial operations. Taking forward the highly successful and mutually beneficial cooperation in the field of hydroelectric energy, the implementation Agreement for the 1095 MW Punatsangchhu hydroelectric project was signed by the External Affairs Minister and his Bhutanese counterpart.

India remains committed to providing assistance to Bhutan during its transition to a Democratic Constitutional Monarchy. Negotiations for finalizing India’s assistance package for Bhutan’s 10th Five year plan are already underway.

China: India – China relations remain a high priority of India’s foreign policy. China is India’s largest neighbour with whom we have a long history of uninterrupted interactions. The year under review saw continuity in the momentum of development of bilateral relations. Prime Minister visited China in January 2008. Other bilateral visits from India included Minister for Commerce and Industries, Deputy Chairman Planning Commission, and Minister for Panchayati Raj, Youth Affairs & Sports and DONER leading a 100 member youth delegation. From China, Mme. Liu Yandong, Minister of the United Front Work Department and Hu Chunhua, President, All China Youth Federation leading a 100 member youth delegation visited India. Economic engagement continued to grow in prominence with bilateral trade reaching Rs. 80909.74 crores during April – October 2007. China has emerged as our second largest trade partner. For China, India became an important export market with China’s exports to India registering the fastest growth. Both countries realized the importance of placing bilateral trade on a strong, diversified and mutually beneficial foundation. The activities associated with the India-China Friendship Through Tourism Year 2007, regular high-level interactions on the sidelines of regional and international gatherings and sustained exchanges in various fields along with the addition of newer dialogue mechanisms like the meeting of the expert-level mechanism on trans-border rivers, annual defence dialogue, and dialogue mechanism on disarmament and non-proliferation were the highlights of the year. The two countries have also been furthering cooperation in regional and multilateral forums on global issues such as climate change and energy security. India-China relations today are of regional and international significance, which found expression in the form of “A Shared Vision for the 21st Century” signed during Prime Minister’s visit to China.

Iran: Regular contacts with the Government of Iran have been maintained through high-level exchanges and regular institutional mechanisms such as the Joint Commission and annual Foreign Office Consultations / Strategic Dialogue. The impetus provided by high-level discussions contributed to further bilateral cooperation in energy, trade and commerce, investment, culture and transit as well as cooperation in regional and international issues of mutual interest. Bilateral trade increased by around 55% in 2006-07 as compared to the previous year. Mutual commitment to strengthening bonds of friendship for mutual prosperity, peace and stability in the region has been reiterated at the highest levels by both governments.

Maldives: Bilateral relations between India and Maldives continued to be close and friendly. The warmth of this relationship was maintained through high-level exchanges. President Maumoon Abdul Gayoom himself visited India on a State Visit from 6-12 February 2008. Earlier, President Gayoom had visited India in April 2007 to participate in the SAARC Summit in New Delhi in April 2007. The newly appointed Foreign Minister Abdulla Shahid visited India in October 2007 and also for the SAARC Council of Ministers Meeting in December 2007. Foreign Secretary visited Maldives from 27-29 January 2008 for bilateral consultations. He called on President Gayoom of Maldives besides meeting the Foreign Minister and Defence Minister of Maldives. Jairam Ramesh, Minister of State for Commerce, visited Maldives from 29-31 January 2008.

India extended cash assistance equivalent to Rs. 10 crores in the aftermath of damage caused to Maldives by tidal waves in May 2007 and also continued to provide training facilities to Maldivian nationals in various areas under its bilateral aid programme. The construction work on a project relating to the setting up of Faculty of Hospitality and Tourism Studies, a hotel management training institute in Maldives with Indian assistance of over Rs. 50 crores commenced in September 2007 and is expected to be completed by end-2008/early 2009.

India’s exports during the years 2005 and 2006 amounted to Rs. 368.72 crores and 384.10 crores respectively while the India’s imports amounted to Rs. 4.48 crores and Rs. 5.53 crores respectively.

Myanmar: India-Myanmar relations strengthened during the year through a number of bilateral visits at various levels. The Minister of Culture and Tourism Ambika Soni visited Myanmar on 14 October 2007 to attend the state funeral of late Prime Minister General Soe Win. Earlier, in September 2007, Minister of Petroleum and Natural Gas Murali Deora visited Nay Pyi Taw for the signing of Production Sharing Contracts (PSC) between ONGC Videsh Limited with Myanmar Oil and Gas Enterprise for three deep-sea blocks. From Myanmar side there was visit of Lt. General Thiha Thura Tin Aung Myint Oo, Quarter Master General and Member SPDC visited India in April 2007 and Myanmar Foreign Minister U Nyan Win visited India in January 2008. Interaction at the level of Prime Minister and External Affairs Minister also continued on the sidelines of international meetings. Work on cross-border infrastructure projects, including the resurfacing of the Tamu-Kalewa-Kalemyo road and negotiations on the Kaladan Multi-Modal Transit Transport Project, which are aimed at both benefiting the North-east region of India as well as improving bilateral trade, continued. India is also considering the development of Rhi-Tidim, Rhi-Falam roads in Myanmar for the development of second border trade point between India and Myanmar at Zokhawthar (Mizoram)- Rhi (Myanmar). On the economic front Myanmar’s exports to India during 2006-07 amounted to Rs. 2934 crores and India’s exports to Myanmar amounted to Rs. 640 crores. India continued to extend support to the process of national reconciliation and political reform within Myanmar.

Pakistan: The Composite Dialogue and the Joint Commission continued to strengthen and deepen bilateral engagement although the pace of progress in India-Pakistan relations slowed considerably due to the domestic political turbulence in Pakistan. The dialogue process which began in 2004, is premised on the commitment given by the Pakistan President on 6 January 2004 not to permit any territory under Pakistan’s control to be used to support terrorism in any manner. During the year, the dialogue process resulted in the signing of the Agreement on “Reducing the Risk from Accidents Relating to Nuclear Weapons”, an agreement to allow either country’s trucks to cross at Wagah/Attari Border up to designated points on the other side, and completion of joint survey of Sir Creek and exchange of maps showing respective positions of either country. Transport links established in the previous rounds of the dialogue continued to operate successfully, facilitating the movement of people and boosting bilateral trade. The robust growth in bilateral trade is illustrated by the fact that total trade turnover increased from Rs. 3846.45 crores in 2005-06 to Rs.7563.49 crores in 2006-07. This high rate of growth is being maintained in 2007-08 also. In the period from April to October 2007 total trade was valued at Rs. 4598.46 crores.

High-level bilateral visits added momentum to the dialogue process. Minister of External Affairs Pranab Mukherjee visited Pakistan on 13-14 January 2007. The Prime Minister of Pakistan Shaukat Aziz visited New Delhi to attend the SAARC Summit on 04 April 2007. The former Foreign Minister of Pakistan Khurshid Mahmood Kasuri visited New Delhi on 20-21 February 2007 to co-chair India-Pakistan Joint Commission meeting and Foreign Minister Inamul Haque on 7-8 December 2007 to attend the SAARC Council of Ministers.

Humanitarian issues concerning prisoners and fishermen continued to need high priority and attention. The formation of a Judicial Committee on Prisoners and the visit of relatives of Missing Defence Personnel to Pakistan are the important steps in this regard.

India continues to have serious concerns on the infrastructure of terrorism in Pakistan and its cross-border and other implications for us. The Joint Anti-Terrorism Mechanism, which was formed after the decision taken to that effect at Summit meeting in Havana in September 2006, held two meetings in 2007-08. This mechanism could be a useful instrument if implemented effectively.

Sri Lanka: India-Sri Lanka relations continued to be close in political, economic and cultural spheres. President Mahinda Rajapaksa visited New Delhi twice: in April 2007 for the SAARC Summit and in October 2007 for the Hindustan Times Leadership Summit. Foreign Minister Rohitha Bogollagama visited India several times, lastly in December 2007 for the SAARC Council of Ministers Meeting in New Delhi. From India, Minister for Food and Agriculture Sharad Pawar visited Sri Lanka in May 2007 and Finance Minister P. Chidambaram in November 2007 to address the annual lecture at the Lakshman Kadirgamar Institute of International Relations and Strategic Studies. In the interaction which took place during these visits, India expressed its conviction that there is no military solution to the ethnic problem in Sri Lanka and the only way out is a negotiated, political settlement acceptable to all communities in Sri Lanka. Bilateral trade amounted to Rs. 6,400 crores for the period April-September 2007 as against Rs. 5,200 crores during the same period in 2006 and negotiations progressed on a Comprehensive Economic Partnership Agreement (CEPA). India was the 4th largest investor in Sri Lanka in the year 2007. India continued to provide assistance to Sri Lanka in the field of human resource development. Progress was made on setting up of 500 MW coal-based power plant by NTPC in Trincomalee, rehabilitation of Colombo-Matara railway by RITES and IRCON and construction of 150-bed hospital at Dickoya in upcountry Sri Lanka.

South-East Asia and the Pacific

India’s relations with South East Asian countries including Australia, New Zealand and South Pacific countries continued to strengthen further in 2007-08. India’s Look-East Policy, which seeks to establish convergence with South-east Asian countries, showed continued progress in its implementation. Significant events during 2007-08 included the State Visits of the President of the Philippines and the Prime Ministers of Thailand, Vietnam and Cambodia. These visits led to the signing of several agreements which strengthened the institutional framework for closer relations with countries of South-east Asia.

During this period we further strengthened our bilateral defence relations with Singapore, Malaysia, Thailand and Vietnam through exchange of visits, training exchanges, ship visits and cooperation between defence industries of India and countries of Southeast Asia. Cooperation in countering terrorism and organized crimes was strengthened through bilateral frameworks established with South-east Asian countries.

In accordance with our commitment to South-South Cooperation, India has also been offering soft credits and grants to Cambodia, Laos and Vietnam. Lines of Credit of US$ 45 million for Vietnam, US$ 17 million for Laos and US$ 35 million for Cambodia were approved during the year.

In the cultural sphere, we made efforts to strengthen the soft linkages between India and countries of South-east Asia. This aspect of our diplomacy was pursued through cultural exchanges, restoration of temples in Cambodia and Laos by the Archaeological Survey of India (ASI) and through the proposal to establish an international university at Nalanda through an intergovernmental agreement. The proposed university will be a centre for classical and contemporary studies and will aspire to bring together scholars and students from the entire South-east Asian and East Asian region.

East Asia

India-Japan relations have undergone a significant and qualitative shift in recent years, propelled by successful regular summit-level exchanges. The Joint India-Japan Strategic and Global Partnership established during our Prime Minister’s visit to Japan in 2006 provides both the vision for chartering the future course of the relations and also a detailed action plan in that direction. The Strategic and Global Partnership is based on five pillars of cooperation viz., Political, Defence and Security Cooperation; Comprehensive Economic Partnership; Science and Technology Initiative; People to People exchanges and Cooperation in Regional/Multilateral fora. Japanese Prime Minister Abe’s official visit to India in August 2007 helped chart out a road map for further strengthening this partnership with the signing of the Road Map for New Dimensions to the Strategic and Global Partnership. One important component of the Road Map is to broaden the strategic dialogue at all levels, to qualitatively upgrade exchanges in the security and defence fields, and to upgrade economic engagement.

Relations between India and Republic of Korea have become more intense and diversified. At the political level, these relations are excellent and devoid of any irritants. The increase in the high-level visits, strengthening of commercial ties, and contacts in the field of art and culture have provided impetus to India-Korea bilateral ties. Economic engagement has acquired a prominent position in bilateral relations. ROK has emerged as an important country for investments into India. Growing defence and security ties and cooperation in regional and multilateral fora on common issues of interests are important aspects of dynamic bilateral relations.

India's traditionally friendly and cordial relations with Mongolia have steadily improved over the years. India continued to provide technical and economic cooperation to Mongolia in higher education, agriculture, information and Communication Technology and human resource development.

Eurasia

India maintained and further developed its strategic partnership with Russia during the year. The Prime Minister visited Moscow in November 2007 for the annual Summit meeting with the President of the Russian Federation. There was exchange of high-level visits to promote cooperation in respective spheres, including those of the Ministers of External Affairs, Defence, Commerce and Industry and Petroleum and Natural Gas from the Indian side and Head of Federal Space Agency and Acting Secretary of the Russian Security Council from the Russian side. Bilateral agreements were signed in diverse fields, particularly defence, economic cooperation and science and technology. Joint naval and airborne exercises were held in April and September 2007 respectively. The year marked the 60th anniversary of the establishment of diplomatic relations between India and the Russian Federation. India participated in India-Russia-China trilateral Foreign Ministers dialogue process.

India engaged with Eurasian countries at various levels to widen and deepen its cooperation with them. In particular, the President of Belarus visited India, the Minister of State for Commerce visited Azerbaijan and Uzbekistan and the Minister of State for Agriculture visited Armenia apart from several official level visits. Parliamentary visits, trade delegations, cultural festivals, seminars and development cooperation programmes and projects were undertaken to strengthen bilateral relations. The fifteenth anniversaries of the establishment of India's diplomatic relations with Armenia, Azerbaijan, Belarus, Georgia, Kazakhstan, Kyrgyz Republic, Tajikistan, Turkmenistan, Ukraine and Uzbekistan were marked through events with respective countries. India, as an Observer state, participated in the Heads of State and Heads of Government meetings of the Shanghai Cooperation Organization in August and November 2007 respectively.

The Gulf, West Asia and North Africa

In order to further strengthen its close and friendly relations with the countries of the Gulf region, India maintained the pace of its interactions in all fields. The year was marked by the visits of the Crown Prince of Bahrain in March 2007, Vice President and Prime Minister of the UAE and Ruler of Dubai in March 2007 and of the Deputy Prime Minister for the Council of Ministers of the Sultanate of Oman in December 2007. Joint Commission/Committee Meetings were held with Bahrain, UAE and Yemen. India reiterated its desire to enhance cooperation with Iraq during the meeting of the bilateral Joint Commission held in May 2007 and hopes that peace and stability would soon return to it. An Indo-GCC Industrial Conference was held in May 2007 in Mumbai. A number of Agreements and MoUs were signed to strengthen the institutional framework for bilateral cooperation with the countries of the region, who are important economic partners, a major source for oil and gas imports and have a common interest in promoting peace and stability in the region. The region is home to over 4 million Indian expatriates, and several measures were initiated to promote their welfare.

India continued to consolidate its traditionally close and multifaceted relationship with countries of West Asia and North Africa. The momentum generated by the visit of the King and Queen of Jordan to India in 2006 was capitalized upon to give further substance to bilateral relations. Our close ties with Egypt continued to be nurtured with bilateral visits from both sides. India emerged as the third largest trading partner of Egypt in 2007. In Algeria a Parliamentary Friendship Group with India was formed and a Parliamentary delegation from Algeria visited India in December 2007. On the economic front Indian companies continued to successfully expand their activities in the region, particularly in Algeria, Jordan, Sudan and Libya. Together, Indian companies secured contracts worth over US$ 1 billion in the region in 2007. Trade with the region also continued to grow at a healthy rate.

India reiterated its support for a negotiated solution to the Palestinian issue resulting in a sovereign, independent, viable and united State of Palestine within secure and recognised borders living side by side at peace with Israel as endorsed in the Quartet Roadmap and UNSC Resolution 1397 and 1515. India joined the efforts of the international community to seek a just solution to the legitimate rights of the Palestinian people for a homeland of their own. India reiterated its commitment to the Palestinian cause at the Annapolis peace conference in November 2007 and pledged US$ 5 million more for Palestine for development projects as well as training of 400 Palestinian officials under the ITEC programme at the subsequent donor’s conference in Paris in December 2007.

Africa

India further intensified its traditionally warm and cordial links with the countries of Africa. During the visit of Prime Minister Dr. Manmohan Singh to Nigeria in October 2007, it was agreed to establish a Strategic Partnership between India and Nigeria that would cover bilateral political, economic, trade, security, cultural, education, science and technology and international dimensions. India also received several high-level visitors from the countries of the region including the Ethiopian Prime Minister, Meles Zenawi and the President of the Union of Comoros, Mohamad Sambi. Regular exchange of Ministerial level visits resulted in new agreements in agreed areas of cooperation. Parliamentary exchanges took place particularly in the context of training courses offered by the Bureau of Parliamentary Studies and Training. Relief assistance and capacity building including through small development projects was provided under the assistance programme of the Ministry.

India deepened its ties with the region at not only the bilateral level but also at a regional and institutional level. A major step forward was the decision to hold the India-Africa Summit/Forum on 8 April 2008. India’s engagement with African Union (AU) continued to intensify with the Minister for External Affairs, Pranab Mukherjee, meeting with AU Chairperson Alpha Oumar Konare during his visit to Ethiopia in July 2007. The India-AU Joint Working Group met for two rounds of discussions including with African Permanent Representatives during the second round. The President of ECOWAS Commission called on Prime Minister Dr. Manmohan Singh during his visit to Nigeria in October 2007 and expressed his desire for further intensifying cooperation between India and ECOWAS. India also continued to engage in dialogues with other sub-regional groupings such as COMESA, SADC, EAC, and SACU.

The period saw increased Indian public and private sector investment in the continent and enhanced participation by Indian companies in multilaterally funded infrastructure projects in Africa. Anand Sharma, Minister of State for External Affairs led the Indian delegation for the regional project partnership conclaves which were held in Johannesburg, Cape Town, Kampala and Maputo. The regional conclave for West Africa was held by CII in Abidjan. The conclaves were successful with businesses from both regions striking significant partnerships and also gave spur to Indian companies seeking to build their brands in Africa. The Ministry is supporting the next Pan-African Conclave scheduled to be held in New Delhi from 19-21 March 2008. Lines of Credit were extended for specific infrastructure development projects.

The TEAM-9 Initiative, a techno-economic cooperation venture between India and 9 countries of West Africa, continues to provide an effective impetus to deepen India’s relations with several important countries of West Africa. ECOWAS countries began to avail of a US$ 250 million line of credit extended by India to the ECOWAS Bank for Investment and Development and projects worth US$ 113.5 million, ranging from health and agriculture sectors to rural electrification, were approved. The impact of these initiatives on our relationship with countries of West Africa region was evident in the several Ministerial level visits that India received.

The work for implementation of the Pan-African e-network project continued. The pilot project for tele-education and tele-medicine was inaugurated by External Affairs Minister Pranab Mukherjee in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia on 4 July 2007. The construction of the hub in Dakar (Senegal), which was chosen as the site for establishment, was completed. TCIL has already signed MoUs for participation in the project with 28 countries in Africa. Survey work through TCIL teams in various regions is underway.

Europe

The member States of the EU are important to India individually as well as collectively. The European Union, which has always been an economic powerhouse, has evolved as a political entity growing eastwards and encompassing 27 countries. The EU Reform Treaty was signed by the Heads of State or Government of the 27 Member States in Lisbon on 13 December 2007. Called the Treaty of Lisbon, it aims to provide the EU with modern institutions and optimised working methods. The Schengen area too grew in December 2007 by including 9 of the 12 New Member countries; the rest three of the New Member countries, viz., Cyprus, Bulgaria and Romania are likely to join later.

India’s relations with Europe have grown exponentially covering all areas of interaction. The EU is India’s largest trading partner and bilateral trade crossed Rs. 270,000 crores in 2006. India and EU are also important investment partners with significant two-way flows. Total FDI inflow from the EU to India is US$ 10.86 billion (24% of the total FDI inflows from August 1991 to February 2007). Indian investment has also been growing steadily in UK, Germany and Italy.

India and Europe have worked for development of common approaches to addressing new and emerging global challenges. The President of India visited Strasbourg, France in April 2007 and addressed the European Parliament. This was the first ever visit and address by an Indian President to the European Parliament. The EU was associated with SAARC as an Observer and attended the 14th SAARC Summit held in New Delhi from 1-4 April 2007. India’s External Affairs Minister participated for the first time in the ASEM Foreign Ministers Meeting in Germany in May 2007. The 8th India-EU Annual Summit took place in New Delhi on 30 November 2007.

India’s engagement with individual countries in Europe intensified and diversified in fields such as energy, science and technology and culture. Summit-level interactions have taken place with UK, France, Italy, Netherlands, Germany and Portugal. There has been extensive interaction with EU member states at Ministerial and official levels besides growing exchanges of Parliamentarians and civil society dialogues. Efforts have also been made to diversify and deepen our traditionally warm, friendly and close relations with the countries of the Nordic as well as Central and Eastern Europe. Trade with most of these countries is increasing at a fast pace, moving away from traditional commodities to engineering goods and value-added items. Investments from India are also increasing. Nordic countries are also beginning to view the Indian stock market and financial instruments as safe and remunerative investments for their large investible funds, and have commenced investing in India. The relatively high growth rates in the former East Europe, coupled with the new possibilities arising from a dynamic and economically vibrant India is further boosting economic activity between India and these parts of Europe to mutual benefit.

The Americas

The India-US agenda over the last twelve months reflects the transformed nature of the bilateral engagement – with several bilateral dialogues based on government and private sector initiatives reflecting the understandings of July 2005 and March 2006. The wide range of issues under discussion include health, education, agriculture, defence, energy and science and technology and global issues of common concern such as combating terrorism, WMD proliferation, disaster relief and pandemics.

The finalisation of the text of an India-US bilateral cooperation agreement on civil nuclear cooperation to implement the understandings of July 2005 and March 2006 was a significant landmark in India-US cooperation – paving the way for civil nuclear cooperation and trade between India and the West and other members of the Nuclear Suppliers Group. Government initiated talks in December 2007 with the International Atomic Energy Agency for the conclusion of an India-specific safeguards agreement. These steps, along with an unconditional exemption from the Nuclear Suppliers Group, once completed, would enable the US Government to seek approval of the US Congress before signature, entry into force and implementation of the bilateral agreement on civil nuclear cooperation by both sides.

The bilateral agenda in 2007 diversified and scaled up India-US cooperation prioritizing high technology commerce, defence, science and technology, space, clean and efficient energy, education – always building on the broad base of bilateral trade and economic linkages that support India’s domestic initiatives and perspective plans in several critical sectors.

With Canada, the agenda with the new Conservative Government prioritized the common objectives of increasing bilateral trade and investment, co-operation in science and technology including bio-technology, education, agriculture, counter-terrorism, civil nuclear safety, energy efficiency and environment. Political, official and business-level visits and contacts were frequent as both sides identified and pursued potential areas of enhanced cooperation on the bilateral as well as multilateral plane.

Latin America and the Caribbean (LAC)

Relations between India and the countries of Latin America continued to progress. Several high-level incoming and outgoing visits gave impetus to ongoing interaction with these countries. These included the visits of President Luiz Inacio Lula da Silva of Brazil in June 2007 and of President Felipe Calderon Hinojosa of Mexico in September 2007. Foreign Ministers of Cuba, Guatemala, El Salvador and Brazil also visited India. Visits from India to this region included those to Cuba, Dominican Republic, Guatemala, Colombia and Ecuador. In keeping with our initiatives to reach out to new markets, Indian trade missions and commercial delegations to LAC region were facilitated. Indian business majors established operations in the oil and gas sector in Trinidad and Tobago, Mexico, Brazil, Colombia and Cuba, and iron ore sector in Bolivia. Similarly companies in the IT and pharmaceutical sectors became active in several Latin American Countries. LAC countries are responding to these developments and new resident missions are being opened in Delhi by Guatemala, Costa Rica, Nicaragua and El Salvador. India has announced its intention to open a new mission in Guatemala.

United Nations and International Organisations

India has always attached considerable significance to multilateral diplomacy, and plays an important part in international organisations. India has traditionally been an active and constructive participant in the activities of the United Nations and its affiliated international organisations. India’s interests and the areas of her focus cover a wide spectrum which includes reform of the UN system, tackling international terrorism, peacekeeping operations, international human rights issues, environmental conservation and a fair and just international economic order. India strives to a principled approach to these global issues firmly based on its vision of a more equitable and peaceful international order that gives due emphasis to the legitimate interests of the developing world.

Prime Minister Dr. Manmohan Singh led the Indian delegation to the Commonwealth Heads of Government Meeting (CHOGM) in Kampala (Uganda) from 23-25 November 2007. External Affairs Minister Pranab Mukherjee attended the pre-CHOGM Commonwealth Foreign Ministers meeting on 21-22 November 2007. Minister of State for External Affairs Anand Sharma represented India at a ‘Youth Dialogue’ and a ‘Sports Breakfast’ which were chaired by the President of Uganda. India’s candidate Kamalesh Sharma was selected as the next Secretary General of the Commonwealth during the Kampala CHOGM.

The External Affairs Minister led the Indian delegation to the General Debate of the 62nd UNGA Session from 23 September to 2 October 2007. His statement at the General Debate covered a number of major issues including India’s position on the issue of climate change, need for a comprehensive reform of the international financial architecture to achieve the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs), Doha round of trade negotiations and comprehensive reform of the UN. He also announced a further pledge of US$10 million as Government of India’s further contribution to the UN Democracy Fund. Further, the External Affairs Minister hosted the Ministerial meeting of South Asian Association for Regional Cooperation (SAARC) and participated in the Ministerial meetings of the Non-Aligned Movement (NAM), Asia Cooperation Dialogue, India-Brazil-South Africa initiative and Brazil-Russia-India-China (BRIC), besides having a number of other meetings.

On 15 June 2007, the United Nations General Assembly unanimously adopted a resolution, introduced by Anand Sharma, Minister of State for External Affairs, on ‘International Day of Non-Violence’ with the co-sponsorship of 142 countries to annually observe and celebrate Mahatma Gandhi’s birthday, October 2, as the International Day of Non-Violence. The first International Day of Non-Violence was observed at the UN on 2 October 2007 when Sonia Gandhi, Member of Parliament and Chairperson of the United Progressive Alliance (UPA) addressed an informal plenary meeting of the UN General Assembly, which was attended by a large number of dignitaries from across the world. Other activities organized to mark the occasion included a Round Table at which eminent personalities exchanged views on Mahatma Gandhi’s ideals and philosophy, a photographic exhibition, screening of a film on Mahatma Gandhi and a special cancellation issued by the UN Postal Administration (UNPA) for use by the UNPA during October 2007.

India continued its active and constructive engagement in the reform process at the UN. Despite substantive implementation of the UN reform agenda that emerged from the Outcome Document of the World Summit in 2005, such reform will inevitably remain incomplete without comprehensive reform and expansion of the Security Council, and revitalization of the General Assembly. Elements and ideas on the reform of the Security Council have been discussed for well over a decade, through numerous reports and interminable consultations. It is now time for inter-governmental negotiations to commence in order to make the Security Council more democratic, representative and responsive. India, with partners from Africa, Latin America and Asia, tabled a resolution on 11 September 2007, spelling out the principles on which reform ought to be based if it has to be meaningful.

The Minister of State for Industry, Dr. Ashwini Kumar, led the Indian delegation to the 63rd session marking the 60th anniversary of United Nations Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific (UNESCAP) in Almaty, Kazakhstan, from 17-23 May 2007. The Minister of Panchayati Raj, Youth Affairs and Sports and Development of North Eastern Region, Mani Shankar Aiyar, unveiled a bust of Mahatma Gandhi at the UNESCAP premises in Bangkok at a special ceremony to mark the first International Day of Non-Violence on the birth anniversary of Mahatma Gandhi on 2 October 2007.

India signed and ratified the UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities on 1 October 2007.

Climate change issues have come to occupy center stage on the international agenda. India has been interacting closely with key countries around the world and participating in meetings and conferences on climate change for practical, pragmatic solutions for the benefit of the entire humankind. The Ministry has been proactively involved in the international negotiations and discussions on climate change. This has included the UNFCCC, negotiations including the annual conference held in Bali in December 2007, the Major Economies Meeting process, the UN High Level Event in September 2007 and other meetings/debates at the UN and G8-O5 driven processes. India has also hosted the 2nd Ministerial Meeting of the Asia-Pacific Partnership for Clean Development and Climate in October 2007.

Prime Minister Dr. Manmohan Singh participated in the G8-O5 Meeting in Heiligendamm, Germany in June 2007 where his intervention on climate change was widely acclaimed. He clearly outlined India’s position on climate change noting that strategies should include mitigation and adaptation with fair burden sharing and measures to realise sustainable patterns of consumption and production. He emphasised the importance of taking into account where the primary responsibility for the present levels of GHG concentration rests and not perpetuation of poverty among the developing countries. No strategy should foreclose for developing countries the possibilities of accelerated social and economic development. The principle of common and differentiated responsibility and respective capability is very important. The time is not ripe for developing countries to take quantitative targets, as these would be counter-productive on their development processes. He also said that India was determined that its per capita GHG emissions are not going to exceed those of developed countries even while pursuing policies of development and economic growth.

In order to evolve measures to mitigate the risk posed by disasters, the Delhi Declaration on Disaster Risk Reduction in Asia 2007 was adopted at the Second Asian Ministerial Conference on Disaster Risk Reduction in New Delhi in November 2007. An Indian delegation also participated in the first meeting of the Global Platform for Disaster Risk Reduction in June 2007.

In the UNGA discussions on the coordination of humanitarian assistance, India piloted, on behalf of the Group of 77, a resolution tabled annually on ‘International Cooperation in Humanitarian Assistance for Natural Disasters, from Relief to Development’.

With a large diaspora spread all over the world, issues relating to migration were actively pursued by India in international fora. India participated in the First Meeting of the Global Forum on Migration and Development (GFMD) held in Brussels in July 2007.

Multilateral Economic Relations

India hosted the 14th SAARC Summit in New Delhi on 3-4 April 2007 assuming the Chairmanship of SAARC. It was the smoothest, least contentious Summit. For the first time, SAARC expanded its membership to include Afghanistan as the eighth member and China, Japan, Republic of Korea, the United States of America and the European Union as five Observers. Since then Iran has also been welcomed as the Sixth Observer of SAARC. Member states urged SAARC to move from a declaratory to an implementation phase. Two important Agreements on the establishment of the South Asian University and the SAARC Food Bank were signed. The SAARC countries agreed to work together on a roadmap, inter alia, for poverty alleviation, food security, trade and transport, education, culture and counter-terrorism. The SAARC Leaders also agreed to make tangible progress on the four issues of Water (including flood control); Energy; Food and Environment.

Dynamism has set in the various SAARC processes after India assumed the Chairmanship of SAARC, principally due to our conscious effort to discharge our role in a non-reciprocal manner. India hosted Ministerial Meetings in the crucial areas of transport (30-31 August 2007), finance (14-15 September 2007), and security (25-26 October 2007). On social issues, and to implement the Social Charter, India hosted the National Coordination Committee Meeting (6-7 September 2007), first Meeting of the Regional Task Force to implement the SAARC Convention on Trafficking in Women and Children and a Conference on Micro Financing and Women Economic Empowerment in SAARC (26-27 July 2007). In all the meetings, concrete projects were identified. The draft Agreement on the SAARC Development Fund (SDF) was finalized on 29 November 2007. There has been significant progress in negotiations on the text of the Agreement on Protection and Promotion of Investments that is now ready to be finalized. The two Agreements are likely to be signed during the next Summit to be held in Sri Lanka in 2008.

Work has started on the establishment of the South Asian University as well as on a pilot project connecting one/two hospitals in each of the SAARC countries with 3-4 Super Speciality hospitals in India. With regard to the issues identified during the Retreat (Water; Energy; Food and Environment), India is proposing a project on solar rural electrification for 300 houses in a country; capacity building in rainwater harvesting, preservation of forests and agri-business; and sharing of Indian protocol of optimally utilizing rhizobium bacteria for increased nitrogen fixation for high yielding pulses. People-to-people linkages with other SAARC member states have been strengthened through culture, trade and tourism to ensure that the developmental benefits are enjoyed by all of SAARC’s population.

India also continued its active engagement with several other groupings such as ASEAN, EAS, MGC, BIMSTEC, IOR-ARC, IBSA, G-15, G-8, OECD/APEC, WIPO, ACD, ARF, ASEAN, BRIC, in order to increase its integration with the global economy and the evolving global political and security architecture. Prime Minister led the Indian delegation to the 6th India-ASEAN Summit, the East Asia Summit and also the second IBSA Summit held in Pretoria in October 2007. Prime Minister participated in a meeting of the outreach countries of the G-8 Summit held in Germany on 8 June 2007.

Making tangible progress on various commitments made by the Prime Minister during the ASEAN Summit, India hosted 125 Buddhist pilgrims including journalists to visit India on Buddhist circuit from CLMV (Cambodia, Laos, Myanmar, Vietnam) countries. Further, 100 students from 10 ASEAN member countries visited on a week long educational trip in December 2007. The annual special training course for ASEAN diplomats has been conducted in August 2007.

Indian Technical and Economic Cooperation (ITEC) Programme and Development Partnership (DP)

The Technical Cooperation programme with its emphasis on capacity building, transfer of technology and sharing of the Indian developmental experience formed an important element of India’s interaction with countries in the developing world. Over 4,700 participants from 156 ITEC-partner countries took part in the training programmes in the civilian and defence field conducted under ITEC (Indian Technical and Economic Programme) and SCAAP (Special Commonwealth Assistance for Africa Programme) on a bilateral basis. Multilateral and regional dimensions were reflected in special programmes conducted in cooperation with organisations such as the WTO and the Commonwealth. Indian experts were deputed to advise and assist in diverse areas such as Information Technology, Auditing, Agriculture and Defence. Many projects were undertaken during the year in the fields of Archaeological Conservation, Tourism and Hospitality, Information Technology and Small and Medium Enterprises in different parts of the developing world. The humanitarian programme of offering relief and solidarity to disaster hit areas continued with the delivery of supplies and medicines.

Investment and Technology Promotion (ITP)

Economic diplomacy continued to be a serious area of focus in recognition of its importance as a means of achieving broader foreign policy objectives. The Ministry, through the ITP Division, participated in various policy meetings of Foreign Investment Promotion Board, Reserve Bank of India, Board of Trade as well as other policy meetings concerning reforms and liberalisation of the economy and simplifying of investment procedures. At the same time, the capacity to provide support and advice to Indian Government and private entities seeking to establish business and investment enterprises abroad was enhanced through various means, including promotional activities and concessional Lines of Credit.

A new Energy Security Unit was established in the Ministry in September 2007 and appended to the ITP Division to support India’s international engagement through appropriate and sustained diplomatic interventions. The Unit will also support the efforts of our corporate entities, both in public and private sectors, in acquiring energy assets overseas, in transfer of new and emerging technologies to India and in building strategic partnerships with foreign companies.

Policy Planning and Research

The PPR Division maintained close interaction with institutions and individuals specializing in policy research and analyses on themes having a bearing on India’s foreign policy and international relations and provided financial assistance for holding a number of seminars, conferences and research studies with a view to deriving invaluable inputs for the Ministry’s foreign policy planning, formulation and implementation. A database of experts and institutions specializing in policy research and analysis has also been developed by the PPR Division and is updated on regular basis. The notable studies financed by the Ministry included a study on Disarmament and Non-Proliferation done by a Task Force set up by the Ministry; a two-year study by ICRIER on “The National Interest Project”, which includes foreign policy measures required to achieve 8-10% economic growth, and a study on Nepal by Centre for Public Affairs.

The Division continued to issue the Monthly Summary for the Cabinet and publish the Annual Report of the Ministry. It also reviewed the functioning of Business Centres set up in some of the Indian Missions and Posts abroad as also content, scope and frequency of reporting by the Missions. Further, the Division also handled work related to examination of maps depicting India’s external boundaries in coordination with the Survey of India. A Boundary Cell has been established to provide technical support to Territorial Divisions in the Ministry on international boundary related matters. It has started building database for boundary strip maps covering the external boundary of India.

Protocol

India’s increasing engagement with the international community has resulted in a large number of visits to India by foreign dignitaries. There were 78 visits at the level of Head of State/Vice President/Head of Government/Foreign Minister during the period April-December 2007.
Foreign Resident Diplomatic Missions in Delhi have increased from 116 in 2003 to 132 in 2007. Foreign Representatives in diplomatic Missions in Delhi are also growing in size with 80 posts added in 2007. During the year 2007, Germany opened a Consulate in Bangalore and China in Kolkata; permission was given to Turkey to open a Consulate in Mumbai, to Lithuania to open one in New Delhi, and to Japan to open one in Bangalore. Besides, 18 countries were granted permission to appoint Honorary Consul Generals in New Delhi, Kolkata, Mumbai, Bangalore and Chennai. The Protocol Division handled 28 credentials ceremonies, official entertainment, and numerous other functions during 2007. Streamlining of protocol norms and standards continued to be a focus of attention. The service tax exemption framework was implemented on the basis of reciprocity for entitled foreign missions, diplomats, and consulate officials.

Consular, Passport and Visa Services

The Ministry took a number of measures like decentralization and online applications to make the passport issuance system simpler and speedier for the convenience of the public. Computerization of Passport and Visa issuance system was completed in Missions/Posts at Bahrain, Toronto, Kuala Lumpur, Birmingham, Jeddah, Colombo, Kandy and Vancouver and work is underway in Houston, Chicago, San Francisco, Washington, Moscow and Doha. Thirteen Missions/Posts abroad have already outsourced visa application collection work. The Ministry has also successfully implemented the project for centralized printing of Machine Readable Passports (MRPs) in respect of 111 Indian Missions/Posts abroad.

A pilot project for issue of e-passports in the diplomatic and official category of passports has been initiated and is expected to be completed by the middle of 2008. Based on the experience gained from this pilot project, it is proposed to start issuance of e-passports in the ordinary category.

Visa-waiver Agreements for the holders of Diplomatic and Official passports were signed with Croatia, Cyprus, Ecuador, Japan, Philippines and Serbia. These Agreements will enter into force shortly.

Extradition Treaties were signed with Portugal, Belarus and Mexico in 2007. The Ministry started implementation of Apostille Convention in August 2007 for attestation of documents. Under the Hague Convention of October 1961, public documents apostilled by the Ministry are acceptable in 92 Member Countries.

Administration

To enhance Indian diplomatic presence abroad, two Posts, namely, Consulate General of India, Juba, Sudan and Consulate General of India, Guangzhou, China were opened in October 2007. At Headquarters, steps were taken to achieve greater decentralization of decision making and streamlining of rules. Despite a severe shortage in human resources on account of reduction of posts, Ministry fully implemented the austerity measures of the Government with regard to abolition of posts.

Gender equality has been a key element of the Ministry’s overall policy and equal opportunities are provided to women officers in the Ministry. Ministry has also identified posts suitable for appointment of persons with disability, including in the Indian Foreign Service. In all, the Ministry has 37 persons with disability in various grades and cadres.

Two Branch Secretariats, one each at Hyderabad and Chennai, were set up mainly to liaise with the State Governments, Consulates, Passport Offices etc. located in these cities. The Development Partnership Division of the Ministry was merged with the Technical Cooperation Division.

Among projects in India, construction work for Jawaharlal Nehru Bhavan, the future Headquarters of the Ministry of External Affairs, Chanakyapuri Residential Complex for officers of the Ministry of External Affairs, and a Transit Accommodation project are in progress.

Implementation of Official Language Policy of the Government of India has always been accorded high priority by the Ministry of External Affairs. All important documents meant to be placed before the Parliament are prepared bilingually. Training in Hindi forms an integral part of the training programmes of Foreign Service Institute in the Ministry. Our Missions implement a well-formulated scheme for propagation of Hindi abroad by providing teaching materials, financial assistance and scholarships for foreign students to study Hindi. Regional Hindi Conferences were organized in Budapest from 24-26 October 2007 and Seoul from 9-11 November 2007. The Eighth World Hindi Conference was organized by

In recognition of the importance of the Right to Information Act 2005, a separate Right to Information (RTI) Division functions in the Ministry. A Joint Secretary level officer has been designated as the Central Public Information Officer (CPIO) and an Additional Secretary has been designated as the Appellate Authority. In addition, separate Appellate Authorities and CPIOs have been designated in the CPV Division, ICCR and ICWA. establishing, reviving and strengthening cultural relations and mutual understanding between India and other countries.

ICCR’s objectives have continued to witness significant expansion, both qualitatively and quantitatively, in line with the momentum and dynamism acquired in recent years. The Council set up two new Centres abroad at Kabul and Kathmandu as well as two new offices at Pune and Varanasi to meet the increasing demands on its mandate.

The year long Festival of India in Japan was a major success. It concluded on 10 December 2007. The footprint of this Festival was all of South East Asia and multiple cultural troupes visited almost all the countries in the region. Preparations are underway to hold the year of Russia in India in 2008 and Year of India in Russia in 2009.

The Council organised the first SAARC Cultural Festival in December 2007. This was the first event of its kind and consisted of several components such as fusion music, food, fashion, textile and handicrafts, folklore, exchange of students, etc.

RIS, as an autonomous policy think-tank, conducted policy research on international economic issues and provided analytical support in preparations for major Summit meetings and other important negotiations, such as negotiations on comprehensive economic partnership between India and Korea and Track-II Study Group of Comprehensive Economic Partnership East Asia (CEPEA). It continued to hold policy dialogue on the relevance and the way forward for an Asian Economic Community in collaboration with leading policy think-tanks in Asia, and has networked with policy think-tanks in other countries to bring policy coherence and capacity building on international economic issues and development cooperation.
India’s Neighbours

Afghanistan

The deterioration in the internal security situation in Afghanistan on account of continuing attacks by the Taliban has been a matter of principal concern for all of Afghanistan’s friends and allies. There was a significant increase in suicide and Improvised Explosive Device (IED) attacks, very adversely affecting normal life in many parts of the country. A UN study in September 2007 has documented that there has been a seven fold increase in the number of suicide attacks since 2001. The Taliban’s continued attacks, on both military and civilian targets, posed a grave threat to developmental activities and the overall governance process. The rising levels of opium cultivation was another source of concern, particularly given the linkages between illicit narcotics trade and international and cross-border terrorism.

Bilateral Relations

Close consultations between India and Afghanistan on bilateral, regional as also the developmental assistance programme in Afghanistan continued. President Hamid Karzai led a high powered delegation to attend the 14th South Asian Association for Regional Cooperation (SAARC) Summit in New Delhi in April 2007. At the 14th SAARC Summit, Afghanistan was formally admitted as the eighth member of SAARC. During his visit, President Karzai also met Prime Minister Manmohan Singh to discuss bilateral relations and Afghanistan’s role in strengthening the regional cooperation process. On 3 April 2007, a MoU was signed for establishment of the India-Afghanistan Foundation in New Delhi.

Minister for Water Resources, Saifudin Soz and Deputy Chairperson of Rajya Sabha K. Rahman Khan, attended the funeral of His Majesty late King Zahir Shah on 24 July 2007. As a special mark of respect the national flag was half masted at Government buildings in the Capital and in Missions and Posts abroad.

The Vice President of Indian Council for Cultural Relations (ICCR), Dr Sayed Mahdi, accompanied by Director General of ICCR, visited Afghanistan in September 2007. During this visit, Afghanistan’s Minister of Information and Culture and Vice President of ICCR jointly inaugurated the India Cultural Center (ICC). At the invitation of Afghanistan’s National Security Advisor, India’s National Security Advisor M.K Narayanan visited Kabul from 30 September-1 October 2007.

The Foreign Minister of Afghanistan, Dr. Rangin Dadfar Spanta, attended the SAARC Council of Ministers meeting in New Delhi in December 2007. At the sidelines of the SAARC meeting, he held a bilateral meeting with Minister of External Affairs in which issues on the bilateral agenda were reviewed.

India’s Assistance to Afghanistan

India remained at the forefront of the international effort in Afghanistan to aid and assist its government and people in the process of national reconstruction, and establishing a stable, democratic, and pluralistic polity. The External Affairs Minister participated in a high level meeting on Afghanistan in September 2007 in New York convened by the UN Secretary-General (UNSG) and jointly co-chaired by the UNSG and the President of Afghanistan. Shriprakash Jaiswal, Minister of State in the Ministry of Home Affairs led the Indian delegation for participating in a Rule of Law Conference on Afghanistan in Rome in July 2007.

Despite security threats and attacks including IED blasts and grenade attacks on its Consulates in Herat and Jalalabad, attacks on Indian companies and on its personnel in different projects, India maintained its commitment to the reconstruction and rebuilding of Afghanistan. The attacks on our establishments, personnel and projects remained a matter of great concern. In a terrorist attack on Zaranj-Delaram Road Project personnel on 3 January 2008, 2 Indian and 11 Afghan security personnel were killed and several others injured.
Several projects were completed and handed over to the Afghan government including 5 toilet-cum-sanitation complexes in Kabul, the rehabilitated Amir Ghazi and Quargah Reservoir dams, supply of equipment and supervision of execution of power transmission project in Faryab province, solar electrification of 100 villages, expansion of TV coverage in 22 provinces of Afghanistan, digging of 26 tube wells in six provinces (9 in Herat, 1 in Jawzjan, 2 in Badghis, 3 in Faryab, 6 in Balkh and 5 in Baghlan) etc.

The school feeding programme by distribution of protein fortified biscuits to 1.2 million school children daily in 31 provinces in Afghanistan, implemented through the World Food Programme progressed satisfactorily. Nepal

The year witnessed critical developments in Nepal's ongoing peace process. However, the institutionalization of multi-party democracy in Nepal still faces significant challenges.

Following the promulgation of interim Constitution in January 2007, an interim government was formed under the leadership of Prime Minister G.P. Koirala. The ruling Seven Party Alliance (SPA) Interim Government was expanded in April 2007 to include five Ministers from the Communist Party of Nepal (Maoist). The Maoist Ministers submitted resignations from the Cabinet in September 2007 as the political parties and the CPN (Maoist) failed to break the political impasse on the twin Maoist demands of declaring Nepal a Republic and adoption of a fully proportional representation system for the Constituent Assembly (CA) elections. The process of management of Maoist PLA weapons and combatants, under the supervision of the United Nations Mission in Nepal (UNMIN), made progress. On 5 October 2007, the Interim Government formally asked the Election Commission to suspend the Constituent Assembly elections scheduled on 22 November 2007. The postponement of CA elections caused disappointment among the people of Nepal and the international community, including India.

India’s approach has been to continue to extend all possible assistance as requested by the Government of Nepal to support multi-party democracy in Nepal which is essential for peace and fostering development of Nepal’s economy. India maintained close consultations with the Government of Nepal and the major political parties with a view to support the early introduction of the new constitutional order through CA elections. India has stressed the need to enable the people of Nepal to choose their own future and the manner in which they should be governed through a free and fair election process.

The year witnessed several high-level exchanges. Prime Minister G.P. Koirala and Foreign Minister Sahana Pradhan visited India in April 2007 to participate in the 14th SAARC Summit. Bilateral Meetings with the Prime Minister and the Minister of External Affairs took place on the sidelines of the SAARC Summit. Foreign Minister Pradhan visited India again from 6-9 December 2007 to participate in the SAARC Council of Ministers Meeting. Foreign Secretary, Shivshankar Menon visited Nepal in September 2007. Shyam Saran, Special Envoy of Prime Minister visited Nepal in October 2007.

The India-Nepal Treaty of Trade and Agreement for Cooperation to Control Unauthorized Trade were renewed further for a further period of five years in March 2007. India and Nepal signed an Memorandum of Understanding in September 2007 to operationalise the US$ 100 million Line of Credit extended by India for execution of infrastructure projects in Nepal.

Bilateral meetings dealing with various aspects of our bilateral cooperation such as border management and security, boundary matters, trade and commerce, transit, water resources and economic cooperation took place.

Bilateral trade continued to increase. However, the growth in bilateral trade appeared to have slowed, in view of the uncertain political situation in Nepal. As per provisional estimates, bilateral trade grew by 7.9% in 2006-07 as compared to 12.4% in 2005-06 of Nepali fiscal year (beginning July 15). By the end of the Nepalese fiscal year 2005-06, bilateral trade with India of US$ 2.31 billion accounted for 63.2% of Nepal’s total external trade. India’s share in Nepal’s imports stood at 61.7%. India, on the other hand, absorbed about 67.6% of Nepal’s exports.

India continued to contribute to the development efforts of Government of Nepal by undertaking development projects in the areas of infrastructure, health, rural and community development, education under the Small Development Project Scheme that already has more than 220 projects implemented or under implementation. Two big projects viz. Bir Hospital Expansion at the cost of Rs 65 crores and Manmohan Adhikari Polytechnic at the cost of Rs 20 crores were under implementation.

India has provided considerable assistance to the Government of Nepal in terms of vehicles, generators, and communication equipment sets etc. in the ongoing peace process.

Strengthening of border infrastructure along the India-Nepal border was high on Government's priority. Several new projects launched in consultation with the Government of Nepal to improve and upgrade border infrastructure, development of integrated check-posts and road and rail connectivity between the two sides of the border made further progress. Once implemented, these projects would not only facilitate trade and transit but would also contribute to efficient management of the border.

India-Nepal cooperation in the area of human resources development, training and capacity building of Nepali institutions was strengthened further. Besides the doubling of scholarships/seats offered in India as well as in Nepal, training programmes were organized for the Nepali Police personnel, Local Development Officers, Finance Officials and Journalists as per their specific needs. Important Nepalese delegations visiting India include visit of Nepal Supreme Court delegation led by Kedar Giri, Acting Chief Justice of Nepal to study implementation of IT in Indian judiciary, visit of Public Service Commission to study the Indian system of recruitment in public services, visit by Election Commission of Nepal for discussions with its Indian counterpart and to study the use of Electronic Voting Machines. Professionals and officials of the Government employees of Nepal were invited for training programmes in different sectors under the ITEC and the Colombo Plan.

With a view to strengthen and expand cultural relations, an Indian Cultural Centre was opened in Katmandu in August 2007.

Pakistan

The Composite Dialogue Process and the India-Pakistan Joint Commission provide the institutional basis for India-Pakistan dialogue and engagement. There were a number of meetings under these two umbrellas during the period under review as also high level meetings at the level of Prime Minister and Minister of External Affairs. Progress in bilateral relations was maintained. However, the domestic political turbulence in Pakistan and the consequential prolongation of the electoral process had led to a slowing down in the pace of the institutional dialogue. India continues to have serious and continuing concerns on the infrastructure of terrorism in Pakistan and its cross border and other implications for us.

The tragic assassination of former Prime Minister Benazir Bhutto on 27 December 2007 was strongly condemned by the Government of India. The assassination was a setback to the forces of moderation in Pakistan. The spread of extremist violence and terrorism and the danger that poses to political stability in Pakistan is a matter of grave concern. The growing strength of extremist forces in Pakistan has serious security implications for India.

Composite Dialogue

The Composite Dialogue covering eight subjects namely Peace and Security including Confidence Building Measures (CBMs); Jammu & Kashmir; Terrorism and Drug trafficking; Friendly Exchanges; Economic and Commercial Cooperation; Tulbul Navigation Project; Sir Creek and Siachen was initiated in 2004 to deepen and expand the bilateral relations. The fourth round of the Composite Dialogue commenced with the meeting of the Foreign Secretaries in March 2007 and Secretary level talks were completed on all the eight subjects during the course of the calendar year 2007. At the commencement of the fourth round, an Agreement on 'Reducing the Risk from Accidents relating to Nuclear Weapons' was signed on 21 February 2007. Both countries also used this opportunity to underscore that incidents like the terrorist attack on the Samjhauta Express would not be allowed to derail the dialogue process. Discussions in the Composite Dialogue were positive and constructive.

In the Sir Creek talks held on 6-7 August 2007 both sides exchanged maps/charts showing their respective positions on the delineation of the boundary in the Sir Creek and delimitation of the maritime boundary. A Joint Survey of Sir Creek and adjoining areas had been conducted in January 2007 to verify the outermost points of the coastline of both countries with regard to the equidistance method. At the Home Secretary level talks on 3-4 July 2007, the text of a Bilateral Consular Access agreement was discussed in detail. Our concerns regarding cross border terrorism and hostile propaganda were also reiterated in this meeting. At the Commerce Secretary talks on 31 July - 1 August 2007 it was agreed to facilitate cement export from Pakistan and export of tea from India by rail. A number of other measures to enhance bilateral trade were also agreed upon. The transport links established in the previous rounds of the dialogue continued to operate successfully, facilitating the movement of people and boosting bilateral trade.

Humanitarian Issues

A significant number of Indian prisoners, fishermen and boats are in Pakistani custody. Pakistan too has concerns about its nationals in jails in India. During the visit of the Minister of External Affairs, Pranab Mukherjee to Pakistan on 13 -14 January 2007, it was agreed to establish a Committee on Prisoners comprising retired judges of the superior judiciary to visit jails in each country and propose steps to ensure humane treatment and expeditious release of prisoners who have completed their prison terms. The committee has since been formed comprising four judges from each country and is expected to meet shortly. The status of each other’s citizens held prisoners in the two countries was discussed in detail at the Home Secretary level talks held on 3-4 July 2007. Both sides had agreed that steps needed to be taken to reconcile the number of prisoners in either country to facilitate their early release on completion of necessary formalities.

The matter of Indian Prisoners of War in Pakistan jails has remained an issue in bilateral relations with Pakistan. The Government of India has been consistently raising this matter with the Government of Pakistan. During the visit of the External Affairs Minister to Pakistan in January 2007, President Pervez Musharraf agreed to accept a delegation comprising relatives of Missing Indian Defence personnel to visit jails in Pakistan. A group comprising 13 members of families of missing Defence personnel visited 10 prisons in Pakistan from 1-14 June 2007. The outcome of the visit was inconclusive in the sense that it has not been possible to shed light on the fate of missing Indian Defence personnel.

Joint Anti-Terrorism Mechanism

At the meeting between Prime Minister of India, Dr. Manmohan Singh and President of Pakistan, General Pervez Musharraf in Havana, Cuba on 16 September 2006, it was agreed to constitute a Joint Anti-Terrorism Mechanism (JATM). The first meeting of JATM was held on 6-7 March 2007 where it was agreed that specific information will be exchanged through the Mechanism for (i) Helping investigations on either side related to terrorist acts and (ii) Prevention of violence and terrorist acts in the two countries. The second meeting of the JATM was held in New Delhi on 22 October 2007. The two sides reviewed the follow up steps taken on the information shared during the first meeting of the JATM and in the intervening period. Both sides shared new information on terrorist incidents including those which have occurred since the last meeting. They agreed to continue to work to identify measures, exchange specific information and assist in investigations. Government of India attaches importance to this mechanism and believes it could be a useful instrument if implemented effectively.

Commerce and Trade
Promotion of commercial interaction remains an essential component of India’s policy of engagement with Pakistan. Total bilateral trade stood at US$ 1.66 billion in the financial year 2006-07 as compared to US$ 859.33 million in 2005-06. In 2006-07 India’s export to Pakistan was valued at US$ 1.34 billion and India’s import at US$ 0.32 billion. In 2007-08 (April-July 2007) total bilateral trade stood at US$ 616.55 million out of which India’s export component valued at US$ 535.91 million and imports from Pakistan valued at US$ 80.64 million. India’s exports to Pakistan continue to be on basis of a positive list as Pakistan has neither granted Most Favoured Nation (MFN) status nor gave mandatory tariff concessions as required under the South Asia Free Trade Agreement (SAFTA) to India.

As agreed by Prime Minister of India and his Pakistani counterpart during their meeting on 4 April 2007 in the sidelines of SAARC Summit in New Delhi, the export of cement from Pakistan was facilitated. Thirteen cement manufacturers from Pakistan have been granted license to export their cement to India under Foreign Manufacturers Certification Scheme.

In an important development, both countries agreed in August 2007 to allow each other’s trucks to cross at Wagha/Attari border up to designated points on either side and the agreement is being implemented with effect from 1 October 2007. Efforts are underway to start the Srinagar–Muzaffarabad truck service across the Line of Control (LoC) for trade in agreed items. The member States of the European Union (EU) are important to India individually as well as collectively. The European Union, which has always been an economic powerhouse, has evolved as a political entity spreading eastwards and encompassing 27 countries. The EU Reform Treaty was signed by the Heads of State or Government of the 27 Member States in Lisbon on 13 December 2007. Called the Treaty of Lisbon, it aims to provide the EU with modern institutions and optimised working methods. The Schengen area too grew in December 2007 by including 9 of the 12 New Member countries; the rest three of the New Member countries, viz., Cyprus, Bulgaria and Romania are likely to join later. The EU is India's largest trading partner and bilateral trade crossed € 46 billion in 2006. India and EU are also important investment partners with significant two-way flows. India and EU are also important investment partners with significant two-way flows. Total FDI inflow from the EU to India is US$ 10.86 billion (24% of total FDI inflows - Aug 1991-Feb 2007). Indian investment has also been growing steadily particularly in UK, Germany and Italy. India's relations with Europe have grown exponentially from what was a trade and economic driven relationship to one covering all areas of interaction. India's engagement with individual countries in Europe intensified and diversified in fields such as energy, science and technology and culture. India and Europe have worked for development of common approaches to addressing new and emerging global challenges.

India's bilateral interactions with the countries of Europe have gathered considerable momentum during 2007. Summit-level interactions have taken place with Italy, Netherlands, Germany Portugal, the U.K. and France. There has also been extensive interaction at Ministerial and official levels besides growing exchanges of Parliamentarians and civil society dialogues.

India's relations with the majority of the new entrants to the EU and the countries of the Western Balkans has had to be redefined in the context of the new realities confronted by these countries as well as by India - their moving away from communist-era socialist planned economies to market economies and India undergoing liberalization. However, the relatively high rates of economic growth in India as opposed to Europe, the availability of skilled technologists and technicians at very competitive costs, the huge Indian middle class market, and niche areas of excellence including IT and Pharmaceuticals, and the capacity of Indian companies to invest in different sectors of the economy in their respective countries, taken together with the prospect of aging populations and shrinking academic and labour force, all led to renewed interest of central and eastern European countries in India. Trade with most of these countries is increasing at a fast pace, moving away from traditional commodities to engineering goods and value-added items. Investments from India are also increasing. The potential for high technology manufacturing in India, cooperation in petroleum, non-conventional energy, biotechnology and nano-technology and engineering, together with more areas like deep-sea fishing and food processing are raising new possibilities for collaboration in trade and investment. Scandinavian countries are also beginning to view the Indian stock market and financial instruments as safe and remunerative investments for their large investable funds, and have commenced investing in India. The relatively high growth rates in the former East Europe, coupled with the new possibilities arising from a dynamic and economically vibrant India is boosting activity between India and Europe to mutual benefit.

United States of America

The India-US bilateral engagement has broadened with a number of initiatives announced during the visits of Prime Minister Dr. Manmohan Singh to Washington DC in July 2005 and President Bush to New Delhi in March 2006. As a result, India and US interaction today encompasses strategic and security issues, defence, counter-terrorism, science and technology, health, trade, space, energy, maritime cooperation, and environment. Frequent contacts at political as well as at official levels and the regular bilateral dialogue on a wide range of issues have contributed to the qualitative transformation in bilateral cooperation in areas of common interest.

Civil Nuclear Energy

On 20 July 2007 after five rounds of negotiations, India and the US agreed on the text of a bilateral cooperation Agreement to implement the understandings of July 2005 and March 2006. The 123 Agreement meets the basic objectives of safeguarding autonomy of our strategic nuclear programme and indigenous three-stage nuclear power programme and indigenous nuclear research and development. It meets all the assurances to Parliament given by Prime Minister on 17 August 2006. It provides for full civilian nuclear co-operation between India and the US covering nuclear reactors and aspects of the associated nuclear fuel cycle including enrichment and reprocessing.

The Agreement explicitly provides that it will not affect the un-safeguarded facilities of either Party and that it shall be implemented in a manner so as not to hinder or otherwise interfere with any military nuclear facilities or nuclear material produced, acquired or developed by us independent of this agreement. It accords consent to reprocess spent fuel deriving from processed US fuel. The agreement provides for the negotiation of arrangements and procedures for this within one year.

The Agreement provides for the development of a strategic reserve of nuclear fuel to guard against any disruption of supply over the lifetime of India's reactors. It contains a full reflection of the 2 March 2006 supply assurances, its linkage to safeguards in perpetuity and the provision for corrective measures that India may take to ensure uninterrupted operation of its civilian nuclear reactors in the event of disruption of foreign fuel supplies.

India is engaged in negotiation of an India specific International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) safeguards agreement. India continued to play an important and effective role within the United Nations (UN) system. An important area of interest for India in 2007 remained the implementation of the reform of the Organization. This includes reform of the Security Council, revitalization of the General Assembly, reform of the Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC) and the recovery of the central role of the UN with regard to international development issues, efforts to conclude and adopt a Comprehensive Convention on International Terrorism, implementation of a global counter terrorism strategy, better management of the post-conflict peace building processes, the provision of effective emergency relief for natural disasters, and for an equitable management of international human rights issues. Within the Organization, reform includes efforts to bring to the UN improved management and budgetary practices.

A major development was the adoption on 15 June 2007 by the 61st Session of the UN General Assembly of a resolution piloted by India that designated Mahatma Gandhi’s Birthday, 2 October as the International Day of Non-Violence. This resolution was co-sponsored by 142 countries, and was the basis upon which the International Day of Non-Violence was commemorated for the first time at an informal plenary of the UN General Assembly (UNGA) held on 2 October 2007 during the 62nd Session.

The 62nd Session of the General Assembly

External Affairs Minister, Pranab Mukherjee, who led the Indian delegation to the General Debate of the 62nd General Assembly from 23 September - 2 October 2007, addressed the following issues in his address at the General Debate: India’s position on the issue of Climate Change, and the need for it to be dealt within the UN context and in accordance with the principle of common but differentiated responsibilities and respective capabilities; poverty and underdevelopment, which remain the central challenges of the current times; the problem of inadequate flows of official development assistance and comprehensive reform of the international financial architecture as a key ingredient to achievement of the internationally agreed development goals; the overarching principle of special and differential treatment for developing countries as a categorical imperative for an early and substantive progress at the Doha round of trade negotiations. He also announced a further pledge of US $10 million by India to the UN Democracy Fund. On reform of the United Nations, External Affairs Minister observed that such reform will inevitably remain incomplete without comprehensive reform and expansion of the Security Council, and revitalization of the General Assembly. He, inter alia, reiterated the need for UN Security Council reform in both permanent and non-permanent categories of membership.

During his visit, External Affairs Minister hosted the Ministerial meeting of the South Asian Association for Regional Cooperation (SAARC) and participated in the Ministerial meetings of the Non-Aligned Movement, Asian Cooperation Dialogue, India-Brazil-South Africa initiative, the Outreach 5, Brazil-Russia-India-China (BRIC) and the Central American Integration Initiative. Middle East: India has remained engaged in the UN’s consideration of the Middle East issue in the UN General Assembly, and where feasible, at the Security Council. - the finalization of a Comprehensive Convention on International Terrorism (CCIT), piloted by India as far back as in 1996, and India remains in the forefront of the efforts to secure agreement on a Comprehensive Convention on International Terrorism. An informal meeting of the plenary of the implementation of the UN Global Counter-Terrorism Strategy was held in December 2007, to take stock of achievements thus far, and the action that may be required in the ten months prior to the review of the Counter-Terrorism Strategy in September 2008.

India is among the longest serving and the largest troop contributors to UN’s peacekeeping activities. More than 100,000 Indian troops, Military Observers and Civilian Police Officers have participated in 43 out of the 63 peacekeeping operations established since the inception of the UN. India remains the third largest contributor of troops to UN peacekeeping missions, with deployment of 9357 personnel (including 493 police officials) to 11 out of the 17 ongoing UN peacekeeping missions as of end December 2007, in areas as diverse as the Democratic Republic of Congo, Sudan, the Ethiopia-Eritrea border, Lebanon Golan Heights and Liberia where India has contributed the UN’s first fully Female Formed Police Unit.

While the resolution was not called to vote, it played an important role in the OEWG on the Question of Equitable Representation on and Increase in the Membership of the Security Council and other Matters. A series of meetings conducted by five facilitators appointed by the President of the GA were held in February-March 2007 on five elements: size; categories; regional representation; veto and working methods; and the relationship between the Council and the General Assembly. In concert with other developing countries in the Group of 77, India pushed for greater role for the United Nations, particularly through the Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC), in the oversight of the international economic and financial system, and in trying to have a greater emphasis of the development dimension in international regimes.

Disarmament and International Security Affairs
India’s commitment to global, non-discriminatory and verifiable elimination of all Weapons of Mass Destruction, in particular nuclear weapons, continued to be reflected in its policy pronouncements and diplomatic initiatives. India’s stand on issues related to disarmament and international security in various multilateral and regional forums was premised on India’s national security interests and its tradition of close engagement with the international community to promote cooperative efforts at addressing these challenges.

At the regional level, India participated in the ASEAN Regional Forum (ARF) and the Conference on Interaction and Confidence Building Measures in Asia (CICA).

Regular contacts were maintained with key international and non-governmental organizations active in the field of disarmament with a view to disseminating the Indian perspectives on disarmament issues.

United Nations General Assembly (UNGA)
The External Affairs Minister and leader of the Indian delegation, Pranab Mukherjee, in his address to the 2007 UNGA reiterated India’s long commitment to universal, non-discriminatory and comprehensive nuclear disarmament, and also called on the international community to intensify the effort to address the very real threat posed by the link between terrorism and proliferation of weapons of mass destruction (WMDs).

India continued to play an active role at the 62nd Session of the UN General Assembly’s First Committee that deals with disarmament and international security issues. During the general debate the Indian delegate reiterated India’s commitment to the nuclear weapon free world emphasizing that those possessing the most important arsenals have a special responsibility for taking the lead on nuclear disarmament.

In recognition of growing international concerns about the serious global threats posed by the possibility of non-State actors acquiring weapons of mass destruction and using it, India’s resolution on ‘Measures to Prevent Terrorists from Acquiring Weapons of Mass Destruction’ was adopted by consensus, as during previous five Sessions.

India re-introduced its Resolution “Convention on the Prohibition of the Use of Nuclear Weapons” which has been adopted annually since 1982. This Resolution calls upon the Conference on Disarmament to commence negotiations on an international convention prohibiting the use or threat of use of nuclear weapons under any circumstances, as a first step towards reducing the salience of nuclear weapons. India’s Resolution on “Reducing Nuclear Danger”, first introduced in 1998, which calls for the review of nuclear doctrines and immediate and urgent steps to reduce the risk of unintentional and accidental use of nuclear weapons, was also re-tabled. Both the resolutions were adopted by a good majority as in previous years.

Presently, there are eight member countries in SAARC, namely, Afghanistan, Bangladesh, Bhutan, India, Nepal, Maldives, Pakistan and Sri Lanka.

India hosted the 14th SAARC Summit in New Delhi on 3-4 April 2007 thereby assuming the Chairmanship of SAARC. For the first time in its history, SAARC expanded its membership at the 14th Summit to include Afghanistan as the eighth member. Iran has also been welcomed as an Observer in SAARC. The 29th Council of Ministers Meeting (7-8 December 2007) approved the request of Mauritius to be associated as Observer to SAARC.

The Heads of State/Government during the Summit agreed to improve intra-regional connectivity through physical, economic and people to people connectivity. For economic connectivity, SAARC countries committed themselves to early operationalization of the SAARC Development Fund (SDF) and implementation of trade facilitation measures. To ensure progress in areas that have so far been politically sensitive such as Water, Energy, Food and Environment, India has identified small regional, sub-regional projects that have a small gestation period and immediate dividends. These include projects on solar rural electrification for 300 houses per SAARC member state, capacity-building in rainwater harvesting, preservation of forests and agri-business; and sharing of a protocol of optimally utilizing rhizobium bacteria for increased nitrogen-fixation for high yielding pulses.

With the intention of a wider reach and making it user friendly, the publication is accompanied by a CD version, and is available in Japanese, Chinese, Russian, German, French, Italian, Spanish and Arabic languages.

The ITP Division continues to provide to entrepreneurs and policy makers global perspectives on the trends in trade and opportunities for exports and advise on market strategy through the medium of its detailed Investment and Business Brief. The Brief serves as a handy and useful document for all our Missions abroad equipping them with the latest developments in the Indian economy along with facts and figures relating to our trade and investments and helps them in their own promotional activities.

The Division’s website www.indiainbusiness.nic.in which is devoted exclusively for the economic and commercial aspects of India’s diplomacy was revamped with new features and hyperlinks with the aim of providing comprehensive and latest information for global investors and businessmen about the opportunities in India. The website serves as a useful and reliable source of information which is evident from the number of business and investments related queries received by the Division. This has also helped project the image of India as an established economic power with attractive potential for investment and business.

The Division participated and contributed actively in the meetings of Foreign Investment Promotion Board, Reserve Bank of India, Board of Trade and other policy meetings concerning reforms and liberalisation of the economy and simplifying of investment procedures and expeditiously processed proposals relating to opening of Liaison/Branch offices by foreign companies in India.

This Unit would, inter alia, maintain close coordination with the concerned Ministries and support their international engagement through appropriate and sustained diplomatic interventions. It has also been charged with the responsibility of supporting the efforts of our corporate entities, both in public and private sectors, in acquiring energy assets overseas, in transfer of new and emerging technologies to India and in building strategic partnerships with foreign companies.

A list of seminars/conferences/meetings/study projects organized/undertaken by institutions/NGOs partly funded by the Policy Planning and Research Division is given at Appendix XIV. A computerized database of experts and institutions specializing in policy research and analysis has also been developed by the Division and is updated on regular basis.

The Policy Planning and Research Division continued issuing Monthly Summary for the Cabinet. This covers the broad spectrum of India’s relations with different countries of the world during the month.

The Division continued to edit and publish the Annual Report of the Ministry. The Report serves as a compendium of India’s interaction with the rest of the world in the political, economic, and cultural fields, including the views of the government on various facets of international relations.

The Division reviewed the functioning of Business Centres set up in some of the Indian Missions and Posts abroad as also content, scope and frequency of reporting by the missions.

The Division was also responsible for scrutinizing the depiction of India’s external boundaries in the foreign publications imported into the country, and offered its advice to the Ministries dealing with this matter. It coordinated the supply of map-sheets to various Government and semi-Government offices and research scholars for use in their official work with the Survey of India. Passport Offices
There are presently 34 Passport Offices and 15 Passport Collection Centres in India. It is proposed to open new Passport Offices at Amritsar, Dehradun and Coimbatore in 2007-2008. All Passport Offices are computerized and they issue machine-printed and machine readable passports as per the guidelines laid down by the International Civil Aviation Organisation. Passport applications are being scanned and stored electronically.

Passport Services
There has been a significant increase in the number of passports issued over the years. A total of 49.4 lakh passports were issued in 2007, an increase of 13.1% over the corresponding figure in 2006. A total of 49 lakh applications were received in 2007, an increase of 10.7% over the corresponding figure in 2006. The total revenue generated from all Passport Offices also increased to about Rs 567 crore, an increase of 13.8% compared to the total revenue in 2006. The Ministry has been taking a number of measures to make the passport issuance system simpler and speedier for the comfort and convenience of the public. Some of these important steps are delineated as under:

(a) Decentralization through District Passport Cells and Speed Post Centres
With a view to taking the passport issuance and related services nearer to the doorsteps of the applicants, District Passport Cells (DPCs) have been opened at the district level where the office of the District Magistrate/Superintendent of Police receives passport applications and after scrutiny and police verification, forwards them to the concerned Passport Office for issuance of passports. Currently, there are 463 DPCs. The passport applications are also received through the network of 1095 Speed Post Centres.

(b) Online Applications
Online submission of passport applications has been introduced in all Passport Offices.

(c) Infrastructure
Suitable plots have been acquired for construction of Passport Offices in Mumbai, Visakhapatnam, Guwahati, Srinagar, Thane and Jalandhar and purchase of land at Amritsar and Surat is under process. Bangalore Passport Office has started functioning from the new premises. Construction of Lucknow and Jaipur Passport Offices is nearing completion. Construction of Passport Office at Bhubaneswar has already commenced.

Public Grievance Redressal Mechanism
Steps have been taken to strengthen the public grievance redressal mechanism in all Passport Offices. Facilitation Counters and Help Desks have also been set up to assist applicants and also to attend to grievances/complaints expeditiously. A public grievance redressal mechanism also exists in the CPV Division under the close supervision of the Joint Secretary (CPV) and Chief Passport Officer.

Passport Adalats
Passport Offices have been holding Passport Adalats periodically to redress the grievances of passport applicants. These Adalats have been very useful in disposing of old passport-related cases and also in the issuance of passports to applicants.

Right to Information Act (RTI)
A Central Public Information Officer and Assistant Public Information Officers have been appointed to provide information to applicants under the RTI.

Website
The website of CPV Division www.passport.nic.in, which was established in 1999 is being updated from time to time to make it more user-friendly. It has detailed information on passports, visas, consular matters and PIO cards. It also has downloadable forms. The main website provides status enquiry check of passport applications submitted at Delhi. It is also linked to the status check on the websites of all the Passport Offices.
Tatkal Scheme

The “Tatkal Scheme”, which was implemented in 2000 in recognition of the genuine needs of some passport applicants for urgent issue of passports, has been further liberalized. Passports are issued out-of-turn to eligible applicants on post police verification based on submission of prescribed documents. The number of passports issued under the Tatkal Scheme in 2007 was about 4.6 lakh, 70% increase over the corresponding figure for 2006.

Consular Attestation

This year 5,00,085 documents were attested in the CPV Division, out of which 2,81,041 were commercial documents. This service is rendered on the same day without any charges.

Issuance of Visas

Over the years, the procedure for grant of visas by our Missions and Posts has been simplified. Most Missions and Posts grant visas either across the counter on the same day or at the most within 48 hours.

Visa-Waiver Agreements

During 2007, Visa-Waiver Agreements for the holders of Diplomatic and Official passports were signed with Croatia, Cyprus, Ecuador, Japan, Philippines and Serbia.

Issuance of Diplomatic/Official Passports

The CPV Division issued 1950 diplomatic and 24,867 official passports in 2007, as compared to 2444 and 25,265 passports issued in 2006 respectively. The CPV Division issued 6200 visas to foreign diplomatic and official passports holders in the year 2007.

Computerization of Missions/Posts Abroad

Computerisation of Passport and Visa issuance system was completed in Missions/Posts at Bahrain, Toronto, Kuala Lumpur, Birmingham, Jeddah, Colombo, Kandy and Vancouver. Computerisation of Passport and Visa issuance system of Houston, Chicago, San Francisco, Washington, Moscow and Doha is underway.

New Projects

The Ministry has embarked on several projects with a view to modernizing and upgrading the passport/visa issuance system. These are as follows:

i Centralized Printing of Passports

The Ministry has successfully implemented the project for centralised printing of Machine Readable Passports (MRPs) in respect of 111 Indian Missions/Posts abroad. The remaining Missions/Posts will be covered in the beginning of 2008.

ii Issuance of E-Passports

The Government has decided to introduce e-passports, also known as bio-metric passports, initially for diplomats and officials as a pilot project by the middle of 2008. Based on the experience gained from this pilot project, it is proposed to start issuance of e-passports in the ordinary category.

iii Passport Seva Project

The Government had entrusted the National Institute of Smart Government (NISG), Hyderabad, with the task of undertaking a time-bound study on the passport issuance system, including its IT aspects with the objective to deliver passport-related services to the citizens in a timely, transparent, more accessible, reliable manner. NISG has submitted its report which has been accepted by the Government and “Passport Seva Project”, is under implementation.

The project, which is expected to be completed in a time frame of 19 months, will result in the issue of passports within 3 days, and in cases which require police verification, within 3 days after the completion of the verification process. Tatkal passports are expected to be issued the same day. The proposal is to have 68 Passport Facilitation Centres all over the country where the non-sovereign functions, involved in the passport issuance process, such as initial scrutiny of the application forms, acceptance of fee, scanning of the documents, taking photos, etc. will be done by the service provider to be selected through an open bidding process. The Government staff at the Passport Facilitation Centres will verify the documents and decide on granting of passport. The other activities such as printing and dispatch will also be done by the Government staff. Police verification will be expedited through electronic linkage of the Passport Facilitation Centres with the police authorities in State Capitals.

iv Outsourcing of Visa Work

Forty Indian Missions/Posts abroad have been authorized to outsource visa application collection work out of which

v Launch of Apostille Convention Project
The Attestation Cell has launched Apostille Convention Project from 29 August 2007 and 13,633 documents had been apostilled till the end of November 2007.

Extradition Cases and Legal Assistance
In order to provide a legal and institutional framework to combat organized crime, international terrorism and drug trafficking, and to respond to the growing international dimensions of financial and other crime, bilateral agreements are being negotiated with several countries to provide legal underpinning to this international efforts. These consular agreements include Treaties on Extradition, Mutual Legal Assistance in Criminal Matters, Mutual Legal Assistance in Civil and Commercial Matters.

During the visit of the Mexican President, an Extradition Treaty between the two countries was signed at New Delhi on 10 September 2007. Similarly, during the visit of Portuguese President, an Extradition Treaty was signed at New Delhi on 11 January 2007. Also during the visit of the President of Belarus, an Extradition Treaty was signed on 16 April 2007. The Instruments of Ratification of Extradition Treaty between India and Kuwait were exchanged at Kuwait in the month of August 2007 and the Treaty is in force from 7 August 2007. Treaty on Extradition between the Republic of India and the Republic of Bulgaria came into force from 1 February 2007. During the year, Indian official delegations visited Australia, Egypt and Germany to negotiate Treaties on Extradition and Mutual Legal Assistance in Criminal Matters.

The Ministry actively pursues requests for extradition and legal assistance from foreign Governments both for criminal and civil/commercial offences, which also include the financial matters. The requests for extradition emanate from our obligations under the Extradition Treaties or Extradition Arrangements entered into with various countries. During the year, 20 requests for extradition were received from various countries. Similarly, 18 requests were made by the Government of India to foreign countries like Belgium, Canada, Singapore, UAE, UK and USA for their consideration. During the same period four persons have been extradited by the Government of India to various foreign countries and another four persons were extradited from foreign countries. Apart from the above, the Ministry of External Affairs is also receiving warrants/summons/notices and other judicial processes from the Judicial Authorities/State Governments/investigation agencies in India for services/execution on the persons residing abroad.
Administration

Effective pursuance of India’s foreign policy objectives necessitates greater Indian diplomatic presence abroad. For this purpose, there are 170 resident Indian Missions and Posts abroad. In October 2007 two Posts namely, Consulate General of India, Juba, Sudan and Consulate General of India, Guangzhou, China were opened.

A critical component in the effective functioning of Indian Missions/Posts abroad is the locally recruited staff. To enhance the attractiveness of working in Indian Missions/Posts abroad, and to suitably adjust the pay scales on account of increase in cost of living, the Ministry implemented phase two of a comprehensive review of pay scales for the locally recruited staff under the scheme known as the Global Cluster Scheme. Consequently, revision in pay scales was implemented in Missions/Posts in 22 countries abroad under the second phase.

As part of continuing efforts to streamline the administrative machinery of the Ministry, steps were taken to achieve greater decentralization of decision making and simplification of processes. Rules in respect of Children Holiday Passage, Home Leave for India-based Domestic Assistants have been further liberalized and streamlined.

An updated edition of the Indian Foreign Service (Pay, Leave and Compensatory Allowances) [IFS (PLCA)] Rules was published. A process for complete overhauling and simplification of IFS (PLCA) Rules to eliminate ambiguities in interpretation has been initiated. Compilation of various instructions issued by the Ministry during 2007-08 is also underway.

Despite a severe shortage in human resources on account of reduction of posts, Ministry fully implemented the austerity measures of the Government with regard to abolition of posts and held the Screening Committee meeting for Optimization of Direct Recruitment. Indents for fresh recruitment were placed on time and review of deployment of manpower at all levels was conducted periodically.

Management of the different cadres working in the Ministry was undertaken through regular Departmental Promotion Committee meetings, and through implementation of provisions under the Assured Career Promotion Scheme. Regular meetings of the Joint Consultative Machinery were also held to consult the Staff Associations on issues of concern to them, and to consider possible ways of addressing the same.

The current strength of the Ministry is 3464. Details are given in Appendix I. These personnel are deployed in India and in 170 Missions / Posts abroad. This includes officials from the Indian Foreign Service (IFS), Indian Foreign Service, Branch ‘B’ (IFS ‘B’), Interpreters Cadre, Legal & Treaties Cadre and the Library Cadre, but excludes Group ‘D’ and ex-cadre posts.

Recruitment made to various groups in the Ministry from 1 April – 30 November 2007 through Direct Recruitment (DR), Departmental Promotion (DP) and Limited Departmental Examinations (LDE), including against reserved vacancies, are given in the table at Appendix II.

The table at Appendix III gives details of the language proficiency of officers of the Ministry.

Gender Issue

Gender equality has been a key element of the Ministry’s overall policy. In keeping with this, equal opportunities are provided to women officers to take up important responsibilities.

Presently, there are 7 women officers at Secretary level, 7 women officers at Additional Secretary level and 29 women officers at Joint Secretary level. A total of 23 women officers are currently posted as Ambassador / High Commissioner / Permanent Representative / Consul General / Head of Office. The present distribution of women officers among the various cadres in the Ministry of External Affairs (MEA) is at Appendix IV.
Persons with Disability
Ensuring adequate opportunity to persons with disability and to have suitable representation of persons with disability among its personnel is an important objective of the Ministry. Towards this goal, the Ministry has identified posts suitable for appointment of persons with disability, including in the Indian Foreign Service. In all, the Ministry has 37 persons with disability in various grades and cadres.

Organizational Set Up
The External Publicity Division has been bifurcated into two Divisions viz. (a) External Publicity Division and (b) Public Diplomacy Division.

Two Branch Secretariats one each at Hyderabad and Chennai were set up mainly to advise the state governments on promotion of trade and investment and also to liaise with the State Government, Consulates, Passport Offices etc. located in these cities.

The Development Partnership Division has been merged with the Technical Cooperation Division.

Vigilance
Out of total 160 cases, 58 cases were initiated between 1 April 2007 to 30 November 2007. Total 22 cases were closed during this period – 8 cases with imposition of penalty and 14 cases without further inquiry.

Vigilance Unit, brought to the notice of the Consular Officers and Heads of Chanceries working in various Missions/Posts abroad, their responsibilities, as prescribed in the consular manual, about accounting of consular revenue. Missions/Posts have been issued instructions to take a cash security/fidelity bond obtained from the employees who handle cash. Missions/Posts have also been asked to expedite the process of outsourcing collection of visa applications.

Welfare
Welfare Division looks after general welfare of all employees of the Ministry and management of canteen services at South Block, Akbar Bhawan and Patiala House. During the year 2007-2008, the Ministry lost 12 of its employees for whom all assistance was rendered for funeral and ex-gratia payment from Staff Benefit Fund. On Division's recommendation, External Affairs Spouses Association (EASA) donated Rs. 20,000/- each to eight widows of the deceased employees. In addition, financial assistance to the tune of Rs. 15,000/- each has also been provided.

On their return from Missions to Headquarters, the officials of the Ministry face difficulties in getting admission in various public/private schools, gas connection, ration card and telephone connections. Welfare Section has been helping them by issuing letters to Schools, Mahanagar Telephone Nigam Limited (MTNL) etc.

Welfare Division arranged for the collection of funds for Flag Days for Communal Harmony, Red Cross, Armed Forces and Ministry of External Affairs Staff Benefit Fund.

Compassionate Appointment
Two dependents were employed in the Ministry against regular LDC posts on compassionate grounds, during 2007.

Educational Matters
Four wards of the MEA officials were accorded admission to MBBS Course and 39 to Engineering courses, for which the Division coordinated with the Ministry of Health and Ministry of Human Resource Development. 44 seats in Kendriya Vidyalaya were utilized by the children of the officers/staff of the Ministry.

Grant In-Aid
Welfare Division assisted two Indian Missions/Posts abroad to set up recreational clubs by providing grand-in-aid of Rs.10,000/- each.

Canteen
The canteens provided professional services to the officials of the Ministry. In addition, a parallel catering outlet has been established in South Block for providing professional services to visiting Diplomatic Corps, international visitors as well as VIPs.

Right to Information (RTI)
Keeping in view the importance of the Right to Information Act 2005, a separate RTI Division has been functioning in the Ministry. A Joint Secretary level officer has been designated as the Central Public Information Officer (CPIO) and an Additional Secretary has been designated as the Appellate Authority. During January-December 2007, the Ministry (excluding CPV Division)
Administration and Establishment

received and processed 920 RTI applications. The Appellate Authority disposed 71 appeals and the CPIO of the Ministry appeared as respondent in 53 appeals which came up before the Central Information Commission (CIC). No penalty was imposed on any official of this Ministry by the CIC under any provision of the RTI Act during the period under report.

In addition, separate Appellate Authorities and CPIOs have been designated in the CPV Division, ICCR and ICWQ. The officer in-charge of each Passport Office has also been designated as CPIO with Joint Secretary (CPV) and Chief Passport Officer as the Appellate Authority.

Establishment

The Establishment Division primarily handles renting and maintenance of properties, fixation of Foreign Allowance and Representational Grant, purchase and supply of office equipment, furniture and official vehicles, supply of object d’Arts, management and maintenance of the Ministry housing complex and hostels, maintenance of Toshakhana and purchase and supply of stationery.

During the year 2007, efforts were made to streamline the rules, regulations and procedures governing some of these issues in order to make them simple and transparent. As part of this exercise rules governing Special Grant, club membership, insurance of official vehicles, allotment of housing, provision of cable TV in missions abroad, supply of Od’A items and maintenance of equipments at the Headquarters were reviewed and made transparent. A comprehensive policy on mobile and residential phones has been put in place with the concurrence of Ministry of Finance.

Annual review of the Foreign Allowance was undertaken under the Indexation Scheme by a joint team of Ministry of External Affairs and Ministry of Finance. The Ministry of External Affairs has also initiated a proposal in consultation with the Ministry of Finance for rationalization of the system of Foreign Allowance both for those who are posted in missions abroad as also those deputed on projects and other assignments. Joint Ministry of External Affairs-Ministry of Finance teams also paid visits to Ramallah, Tripoli and Kabul to decide on the admissible level of allowances in these countries since their price indices were not available.

A comprehensive project for renovation of External Affairs hostels at Kasturba Gandhi Marg and Gole Market was initiated which is presently under implementation. Similarly, several measures were taken to improve the facilities at Dwarka Housing Complex of the Ministry. As a result of these measures the occupancy rate in the housing complex increased to over 80%. A comprehensive exercise was also undertaken to dispose off perishable items lying in Toshakhana for over two decades. It has also been decided that some of the valuable items lying in Toshakhana could be made available to the National Museum for display.

Several steps were initiated to give a facelift to South Block and Akbar Bhawan. A state-of-the-art Situation Room was also created in the South Block to facilitate use of modern technology for better discharge of foreign policy objectives.

The project for renovation of Jinnah House, Mumbai was finalized and necessary approvals obtained from the Mumbai Municipal Corporation.

The External Publicity Division, the division of Ministry of External Affairs designated to engage with the media, continued to articulate the position of the Government of India on various foreign policy issues and to publicize achievements and successes in meeting our foreign policy objectives.

There were important occasions during the course of the year when Indian foreign policy parameters were articulated by our leaders. Thus, Prime Minister Dr. Manmohan Singh’s statement at the 14th SAARC Summit held in New Delhi in April 2007, his statements at the 2nd IBSA Summit held in South Africa in October 2007, at the Commonwealth Heads of Government Meet in Uganda in November 2007 as also his speech at the India-ASEAN Summit in November 2007 all served to showcase diverse aspects of our foreign policy and were widely disseminated by the Division. The Division disseminated also the thrust areas of our foreign policy as articulated by the Prime Minister during his visits abroad to Germany, Nigeria, South Africa, Uganda and Singapore.

Important areas of endeavour in the foreign policy arena were also highlighted through publicizing the speeches and statements of the External Affairs Minister, Pranab Mukherjee, delivered on various occasions during the year, notably at the 62nd UN General Assembly in New York in September 2007, during his official visits to several countries, i.e. Germany, Korea, Ethiopia, Philippines, Thailand, Singapore, Russia, Libya, Cyprus, Bangladesh, China, Bhutan, Belgium and the US and at the 29th Meeting of the SAARC Council of Ministers in December 2007.

The Division gave enhanced publicity to the declaration by the United Nations of 2007 as the International Year of Non-Violence. The ceremonies held in New York, including the well-attended address by the Chairperson of the UPA at an informal plenary session of the UN and the remarks by the UN Secretary-General, Ban Ki-Moon on the occasion were highlighted and were well-reported in Indian and international media. Similarly, the holding of the World Hindi Conference in New York in July 2007 and the international participation in it was also well-publicized.

The External Publicity Division facilitated wide publicity, through background briefings and official statements, to all issues which are foreign policy priorities for the country. Particular focus during the latter part of the year was on climate change issues leading up to the United Nations Conference on Climate Change at Bali held in December 2007. India’s views on climate change and greenhouse gas emissions which were articulated during the Bali Conference were well publicized in Indian and international media. India’s views on security and disarmament and international civil nuclear cooperation were also highlighted. The continuing achievements of the Indian economy, including the worldwide success of private Indian companies in acquisitions of global companies, were also publicized on the Ministry Of External Affairs website and on the Ministry Of External Affairs Notice Board.

Another important activity for the Division was in facilitating media coverage of incoming visits by Heads of State and Government and by Foreign Ministers into India. The Division arranged joint press conferences with the visiting dignitaries and assisted visiting media and foreign media represented in India in coverage of these visits.

Media Facilitation

The press facilitation work in terms of extending logistical and liaison support to foreign media delegations accompanying Heads of State/ Government (HOS/G) visiting India and Indian media delegations accompanying President, Vice-President, Prime Minister and External Affairs Minister on their visits abroad forms an important part of the work of the Division. During the year, accompanying media delegation for President’s visit to France and Greece, Prime Minister’s visits to Germany, Nigeria, South Africa, Uganda, and Singapore, and that of External Affairs Minister to Germany, Korea, Ethiopia, Philippines, Thailand, Singapore, Russia, Libya, Cyprus, Bangladesh, China, Bhutan, Belgium and US were facilitated.

In addition, a considerable amount of work of the Division was devoted to assisting foreign media delegations and Indian media in connection with the Head of State/Government and Vice President visits from Portugal, Russia, Finland, Bhutan, Italy, Maldives, Thailand, United Arab Emirates, Brazil, Thailand, Vietnam and Cambodia through issue of media advisories, press conferences, facilitation access to ceremonial areas, meetings and providing assistance for transport and accommodation. Similar support was also extended for 26 Foreign Minister level visits apart from other high dignitaries.

All logistical arrangements, including setting up and operation of media centres fully equipped with facilities for filing of stories by journalists, media briefings and other arrangements, were made by the Division enabling Indian media delegations accompanying the President, Vice-President and the Prime Minister during their visits abroad, to provide timely coverage.

The Division also handled media participation in the World Hindi Conference held in New York in September 2007 and to celebration of the first International Day of Nonviolence at the UNGA in New York.

A Media Centre was set up at Vigyan Bhawan during the SAARC Summit in April 2007. Over 500 media persons from India and abroad registered on-line to cover the Summit. Work stations with computers with internet facilities, was made available, so also visual coverage was made available through Doordarshan to rest of Indian and Foreign Channels, at the Media Center. A Media Centre was established for the SAARC Councils of Ministers Conference in December 2007.

Over 300 strong foreign media representatives based in India were provided necessary facilitation to enable them to function smoothly through provision of relevant information on various issues of interest as well as assistance in matters of credential documents, visas, and residence permits.

Due to the increasing global character of the Indian media, a new phenomenon of foreigners working for Indian media organizations has emerged. This raised questions about the grant of appropriate visas to such persons. Through a process of inter ministerial consultation, the Division has resolved the issue and come out with a uniform policy of grant of employment visas to such individuals. The policy has been conveyed to all visa issuing authorities and is now being uniformly applied.

Familiarization Visits

Familiarization visits by foreign journalists to India are a key element of the Division’s efforts to bring about a more accurate and contemporary depiction of India in the foreign media as the journalists obtain a unique, first-hand impression of developments in India’s politics, foreign policy, economy, culture and science and Technology. The Division, based on recommendations of Indian Missions abroad, continued to organize several such visits to important institutions and centers of excellence in India. During the year, the Division was able to systematize the familiarization visits by advance planning and organizing them on the basis of regional groups. Meetings for visiting journalists were also organized with ministers, senior officials, intellectuals, academicians, and business representatives. One hundred and sixty three journalists were hosted on such visits during 2007 with a special focus on India’s neighbours, francophone Africa, ASEAN and new EU countries. These included senior journalists and editors from East & South Africa, SAARC, LAC, Serbia, Indonesia, Africa, West Asia, Czech Republic, Lao PDR, Netherlands, Korea and Hungary.

Bangladesh, Nepal, Bhutan, Sri Lanka and Maldives besides several from India.

The division undertook activities aimed at capacity building within the Bhutan Broadcasting Service Corporation. To this effect two groups of 10 each from Radio and TV departments of BBSC have undergone two weeks training each organized by the Division at Indian Institute of Mass Communication.

Documentaries by Foreign Audio-Visual Agencies

A major area of work of the Division is clearance of documentaries by foreign audio-visual agencies. An exercise to streamline the process of approval of documentaries in India by foreign producers was undertaken by the Division through a process of inter-ministerial consultations. As a result, the procedures have been greatly streamlined.

During the year 430 documentaries were produced in India by foreign producers, major producers being BBC, National Geographic, Discovery Channel, NHK, RAI of Italy etc. Interestingly, as India is becoming a preferred world destination for tourism and trade and investment, the numbers of documentary requests are growing. Though the majority of requests came from Japan, France, UK, Germany, Korea and USA, we have had requests from China, Afghanistan, and Reunion Islands etc as well.

Official Spokesperson’s Office

The Official Spokesperson’s office actively functioned as the hub for information dissemination on day to day developments related to the conduct of India’s foreign policies. The office conducted regular media briefings by the Spokesperson which were duly supplemented by press releases, briefing points and statements. During April-November 2007, about 80 press briefings were held or briefing points released by the Official Spokesperson. In addition, more than 200 press releases and statements were issued during this period. These were circulated to the media through emails and simultaneously placed on the Ministry’s website. The Division continued to make use of SMS alerts for informing the media about briefings and updates to the website.

During the year, External Affairs Minister, Foreign Secretary and other senior officials of the Ministry addressed special media briefings on important issues of concern. The Division arranged for regular briefings by Foreign Secretary at Vigyan Bhawan during the duration of the 14th SAARC Summit. An end of the Summit briefing by External Affairs Minister was arranged which was attended by over 150 media persons in the Vigyan Bhawan plenary hall.

Additionally, constant efforts were made to communicate the position and perspective of the Government on various significant issues by providing background briefings to media persons. Interviews with the Prime Minister, External Affairs Minister, Ministers of State for External Affairs and other dignitaries were arranged with Indian and international newspapers and TV organizations.

The Division ensured that the media received regular updates on a 24x7 basis during various humanitarian crises like the Kenyan Airways plane crash and the cyclone in Oman.

Website

Ministry Of External Affairs’ website continued to play a very useful role in the dissemination efforts of the Division. The press section of the website http://meaindia.nic.in was updated on a real-time basis with the speeches/interviews/statements on foreign policy by the Prime Minister, Minister(s), press releases, briefings by the Official Spokesperson and other senior officials. With more than 100 documents uploaded every month, this website is one of the most accessed and frequently updated websites of the Government. A separate section was created on the website for news and information about the Fourteenth SAARC Summit. Separate sub-sections were created for visits of Prime Minister and External Affairs Minister and other important developments.

The Division continued to use the Ministry Of External Affairs’ Notice Board to provide our Missions/Post across the world with professionally written features on various aspects of India. From this year onwards, op/ed clippings of interest from national newspapers were also uploaded on a daily basis on the Board for use by our Missions.

The Hindi version of the website launched last year was also constantly updated by the Division. The website continued to be widely accessed both inside and outside India.

As a part of a new initiative, the Division is now working towards web-casting press briefings on a real-time basis as also uploading them in audio-visual format on the website.
Public Diplomacy

The mandate of the Public Diplomacy Division includes, inter-alia, outreach activities in India and abroad, and audio-visual and print publicity. Increased involvement of India in international affairs and the expansion of the Indian economy have necessitated that the Ministry engages audiences, both within and outside India, to effectively project India's foreign policy priorities and domestic realities so that a national and consensual approach could evolve within India and a more informed understanding abroad.

To help achieve these objectives the Division organizes seminars, conferences and briefings for and in association with civil societies, NGOs, think tanks, research and academic institutions and business and industry on strategic and foreign policy issues. Contacts have been established with various national and international institutions to organize these events on a regular basis. Furthermore, within India, the Division has consciously made efforts to move away from Delhi-centric approach in organizing these interactive and brainstorming sessions.

Extracts from C&AG’s Report on Ministry of External Affairs

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Issue</th>
<th>Details</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Deficient Internal control mechanism</td>
<td>Non-institution of effective internal control mechanism in the Ministry/Mission of Thimpu resulted in excess release of Rs.6.57 crore to the Royal Government of Bhutan for a power project. The Ministry also made double remittance of Rs. 67.99 crore to the Mission for the same purpose and excess release of Rs. 22.99 crore for another purpose. These instances resulted in loss of interest of Rs. 58.00 lakh computed at the borrowing rate of the Union government.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Irregular payment of Composite Transfer Grant</td>
<td>In contravention of Government of India orders and its own rules, the Ministry paid composite Transfer Grant equivalent to one month’s basic pay to the officials selected on temporary deputation of 2 to 3 months during the annual Haj pilgrimage resulting in irregular payment of Rs. 93.61 lakh during 2003-05. Further, the Ministry instead of recovering the overpaid amount accorded ex-post-facto sanction to incurring of expenditure which was also highly irregular.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Non-adherence to norms for purchase, hiring, repair and maintenance of buildings and residential accommodation</td>
<td>Slackness of the Ministry/Mission at Chicago in acquiring property for residential purpose led to an avoidable expenditure of Rs. 2.48 crore during October 1999 to February 2004. In disregard of the rules, Missions at Bangkok, Beijing, Ho-Chi-Minh City, Kathmandu and Mahe hired residential accommodation for their officers/staff far in excess of the prescribed plinth area norms resulting in irregular expenditure of Rs. 2.67 crore during 2001-05. Indian Missions at Johannesburg and Pretoria in disregard of Ministry’s rule and delegated powers paid rent of residential accommodation in excess of the prescribed ceiling without the approval of the Ministry resulting in unauthorized expenditure of Rs. 31.12 lakh during September 2002 to March 2006. Indian Mission at Mahe, Riyadh and Colombo incurred expenditure on repairs/renovation and maintenance of Government owned buildings/residences of staff in violation of the delegation of financial powers resulting in unauthorized expenditure of Rs. 1.39 crore during 2002-06.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Performance audit of functioning of Commercial Wings in the Indian Missions/Posts abroad</td>
<td>Commercial wings in the Indian Missions/Posts abroad were not restructured keeping in view the changing international trade scenario. Several proposals to restructure and streamline these wings to enable them to discharge their functions efficiently and effectively remained unimplemented. The recommendations of the Expenditure Reforms Commission on downsizing were also not implemented by the DOC.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>The Commercial representation was not commensurate with the trade potential. Posts in many countries identified as “focus markets” were functioning without adequate commercial presence, whereas, a large number of India based and local staff were provided in other countries that were not regarded as top export destinations.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
Appendix X

Only 2 per cent of the total expenditure of Rs. 337 crore was incurred on ‘Trade Promotion’ by the commercial wings during 2001-02 and 2005-06 while the major part of the allocation (75 per cent) was utilized to meet establishment costs. The decision of the commerce Secretary (May 2000) to reduce establishment costs and increase trade promotional activities was not implemented.

(Paragraphs 8.2.1. and 8.2.2.)

Commercial wings in the Indian Missions/Posts abroad did not discharge their mandated responsibilities efficiently and effectively so far as they related to preparation of annual action plan, conducting market research surveys, development of business strategy elements, settlement of trade disputes, follow up on trade and investment delegations to post countries, and furnishing of reports pertaining to the trade fairs and exhibitions in the countries where they were located.

(Paragraphs 8.4.1, 8.4.3, 8.4.4, 8.4.5, 8.4.6 and 8.4.7)

Monitoring of the performance of commercial wings by the DOC and the MEA was lax. The commercial wings did not submit the monthly annual commercial reports regularly to the DOC and the MEA. The reports received in the DOC and the MEA were seldom analyzed or reviewed to measure the performance of the wings.

(Paragraph 8.5.2) (Report No. 21 of 2007 (Performance Audit)}

There were significant delays in the issue of Passports. In the 12 selected RPOs/POs, only 19 per cent of the passports were issued within the prescribed time. In nine of the selected RPOs/POs only 12 per cent passports were issued on time after receipt of police verification reports (PVRs). In 10 of these RPOs/POs even where police verification was waived, 38 per cent of the passports were issued after the prescribed time. The Director General of Police, Uttar Pradesh stated that submission of PVRs in 21 days is not possible unless a separate cell is created and police verification for passport applications was not a priority item for the State Police. Under the Tatkal Scheme, in 80,725 cases passports were not issued within the specified time though in these cases additional fees of Rs. 872.49 lakh had been charged by RPOs/POs Kozhikode, Bhopal, Ahmedabad, Pune, Lucknow, Kolkata, Bareilly and Chandigarh.

(Paragraph 7.1.2.)

Large number of passports that were returned undelivered were not destroyed by RPOs/POs Lucknow, Chandigarh, Kolkata, Kozhikode, Pune, Bareilly, Delhi, Bhopal, Nagpur, Jammu and Ahmedabad although this was required. RPOs Delhi and Jammu did not maintain proper records for this category of passports. The absence of proper accounting and timely destruction of these passports could have serious implications including possible misuse.

(Paragraph 7.1.3.)

In RPOs/POs at Bhopal, Delhi, Pune, Kolkata and Lucknow, 244 passports were revoked/impounded after delays ranging from six months to more than eight years from the date of receipt of adverse PVRs. Twenty eight persons had traveled abroad after the receipt of adverse PVRs/issue of impounding/revoking circulars by the RPO/PO. Delay in revocation impounding of passports provides an opportunity to the concerned persons to continue to misuse their passports, which is against the security interest of the nation.

(Paragraph 7.1.4.)
Lack of adequate control in checking the issue of passports resulted in fake passports being issued by RPO, Delhi to difference individuals who impersonated others. This is a matter of serious concern because of its likely impact on the national security.

(Paragraph 7.1.5.1.)

In RPO, Delhi, the software system did not accurately reflect the status of inter-related revoked/impounded passports thereby leaving scope for manipulation and misuse of the passports not shown as revoked/impounded. The cancelled passports were also not accounted for properly leading to the possibility of their misuse.

(Paragraph 7.1.5.2)

RPO, Delhi issued 5553 loss circulars against 6683 cases of lost passports during 2001-02 to 2004-05. The non-issue/delay in issue of loss circulars can result in misuse of lost passports with adverse implications.

(Paragraph 7.1.6.1)

Sufficient care was not taken in verification of the antecedents and other particulars of the applicants before issue of clear PVRs.

(Paragraph 7.1.8.1.)

During 2000-01 to 2004-05, delay in receiving PVRs occurred in 70 to 82 per cent of the cases, resulting in the issue of passports on 'PVR overdue' basis. Such delay while adversely affecting the genuine applicants, are fraught with risk of passports being issued to ineligible applicants.

(Paragraph 7.1.8.2.)

Passports under the Tatkal Scheme were issued on the basis of verification certificates (VCs) given by the officers mostly to unknown persons on the basis of references made by their friends/relatives etc. In RPOs/POs Delhi, Bareilly, Bhopal, Lucknow, Ahmedabad, Nagpur, Pune, Chandigarh and Kolkata, out of 1,74,177 cases sent for post police verification during 2000-01 to 2004-05, adverse PVRs were received in 1,930 cases, incomplete PVRs in 19,672 and PVRs were not received at all in 44,191 cases. There was no practice of initiating action against the VC issuing authorities where adverse PVRs were received. Not holding the VC issuing authorities accountable has left the entire system vulnerable to malpractices.

(Paragraph 7.1.8.3.)

In RPO Delhi, in 114 cases of revoked/impounded passports, entries regarding their revocation/impounding were not made in the system. These passports could go unnoticed by the PIAs, immigration officers and other security agencies.

(Paragraph 7.1.9.1)

Blank travel documents (passport booklets, visa stickers etc.) went missing in transit while being supplied to 16 Missions/Posts from the India Security Press, Nasik. The blank travel documents received by 10 Missions/Posts/RPO were found damaged. There was absence of proper accounting of blank travel documents. In 13 Missions/Posts, discrepancies in demand, supply and receipt of the blank travel documents were also noticed. The stock registers maintained by the Mission/Posts were deficient on many counts. Poor maintenance of proper records as well as accounting of blank travel documents is a matter of serious security concern.

(Paragraph 7.3.1 and 7.3.2)
Effective supervision, monitoring and internal controls were lacking in passport matters. This resulted in issue of Indian passports to foreign nationals, issue of 275 fake passports and issue of passports to criminals and terrorists. The MEA did not initiate corrective measures to strengthen its internal controls even after the deficiencies and malpractices were brought to its notice.
